The Borough Council directed the Borough Attorney to draw up an ordinance to be presented at a future meeting to provide for the widening of Crescent Ave. and curbs on both sides with a sidewalk on the westerly side.

The decision to get this project started was made at the regular meeting held last night Councilman M Harvey told the members of the reactions of property owners on the road and after considerable discussion the directive was given.

Planning Board Public Session Makes For Better Understanding

CONSIDER OTHERS ON 'CABBAGE NIGHT'

An appeal for a safe, sane and considerate Halloween observance on the part of Allendale youth was issued yesterday by Chief Marshal Robert Wilson. The chief asked that celebrants refrain from undue noise or destruction of property on both Tuesday, 'Cabbage Night' and the following night. "I am in favor of children having a good time, but also have a responsibility to protect Borough properties," the chief said. "One way of having a good time is attending the local celebration. I hope this is done."

The Holiday Observers are appealing to the decency of the young fry in Allendale and ask that no obscene language appears on the store windows during the Halloween Celebration. Let's keep Allendale clean.

MOTORIST FINED $10 IN AUTO MISHAP

Magistrate Herman Honig listened Tuesday night to Roy Hurd of Park ave. when he pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving. Mr. Hurd explained that the oncoming truck lights blinded him but that he was on the wrong side of Crescent avenue. After hearing this and other testimony the magistrate fined Hurd $10. and $3. costs.

The only other case was held over until Nov. 13 when Garry Schurt of Elm St. will have to correct unsanitary conditions with his cesspool. The charge was made by the local health board.

CHURCH COMMITTEE TO ENLARGE ARCHER

The congregation of the Archer Memorial Church voted last week to proceed at once with the enlargement and renovation of Archer Hall. When completed the entire Sunday School will be accommodated in the hall and almost every age group will have a separate class room. At present, the older pupils meet in the church building, and several classes are grouped in the second floor auditorium. This change will permit a great improvement in the effectiveness of teaching in all classes.

Another feature of the new building will be a modern kitchen adjacent to the large meeting room and a smaller meeting room convertible into two class rooms on the same floor. The present kitchen now used for the Nursery department of the Sunday School will be rearranged for classroom use.

A total of about $11,300 has been raised by popular subscription for this construction and additional payments on pledges are expected to raise this to $15,000. The Board of Trustees of Archer Church have released $5300 from an endowment fund providing that the congregation raises the balance needed. The amount of the lowest bid will be announced after a contract has been signed, but all bids are known to exceed the $20,000 total indicated above by substantial amounts.

The fund raising committee under the chairmanship of Mr. L. Unser will be reconstituted and will put on a brief but vigorous campaign to raise the amount required within a few weeks.

The Hackensack Hospital Nurses' Alumnae presents their "Biennial Fair" on November 1st and 2nd from 2 to 10 p. m. The "Fair" will be held at the Hackensack Hospital Nurses' Home. Dinner will be served each evening from 6 to 8 p.m. Door prizes will be drawn hourly each evening.

Francis Scafuro, chairman of the local Planning Board, presided at a special meeting called last Saturday morning at the Fire House for a discussion of the proposed master plan for the Borough.

In his opening remarks, Scafuro outlined the proposed zoning ordinance amendment which defines land use of double A and triple A zones if and when such zones are established.

Scott Bagby, of the firm of Bagby and Pangburn, planning consultants, intimated that the plan now being drawn for the Borough is for an estimated population of 6,000 in the next 20 or 30 years and is based on Regional Plan studies and trends. The time period of 20 — 30 years represents an average duration of municipal bonds and home mortgages.

Bagby explained that the 6,000 population estimate took into consideration new streets park, public services, additional school equipment. If town growth can be planned, then operating expenses which must be met by taxation can also be controlled.

Speaking before a group of representatives of the Borough Council, Planning Board, Board of Adjustment Board of Education, Chamber of Commerce and other Civic groups, Bagby maintained that the cooperation of all groups and all residents was necessary in carrying out an effective town plan, not only with regard to present problems but in anticipating such problems as must, of necessity, arise in the future, such as the school situation. Bagby stated that it requires 1,700 families to support one school economically; but 600 families in one square mile need a school. Hence, the school situation can present a very real problem, if not provided for properly.

Stephen Van Houten who was first to speak from the floor, commended the planning Board for the time and effort they were expending and agreed with the wisdom of spending a dollar now to save thousands later. However, he maintained that they were laymen and did not know Allendale thoroughly. Van Houten was of the opinion that homes in the Borough would rarely exceed $20,000. Chris Smith and Dr Pittis, two other substantial property owners and George Wilson, builder were heard from and their points of view have given the Planning Board data for further study.

Scafuro in his closing remarks, stated that owners of small properties view this whole question differently from those whose holding are more substantial but maintained Scafuro, how large owners use their land will determine Allendale's future expenses. The job of the Planning Board is to control taxes before they get out of hand.

Mrs. Drexler and Co. Settled In New Home

Allendale's former volunteer Dog Warden and general good samaritan to animals, Mrs. Sidney L. Drexler, has reported the safe arrival of the entire Drexler menage at their new mid-western home. First word of the total resettlement came in the form of a round-robin letter to several of her ex-neighbors, written last week by Mrs. Drexler from their new address at Wayne, Illinois.

Sid Drexler, Sr., whose business took him west, went on ahead to get things "ready." Mrs. Drexler and young Sidney (Tex) followed in the family station wagon, leaving early Wednesday, October 3rd, and finally reaching their destination Saturday afternoon, the 6th. They made the first leg of the trip to Pittsburgh, or nearly there, alone — except for the company of 2 each Great Dane dogs, 1.

small dog "Blondie," 1 Boston bull-dog "Butch," 3 each assorted cats, 1 canary and "Shadrack," the ancient parrot. According to the report at hand, behavior of both the four-footed and feathered Drexlers would have made Noah envious.

Mrs. Drexler, who was met by her husband on the highway nine miles this side of Pittsburgh the first evening, admits to having made only one blunder enroute — crowing a shade too soon about her fine trip progress. It seems that just as Mrs. Drexler indulged in a bit of gloating over surprising Mr. Drexler by meeting him ahead of time at the appointed Pittsburgh hotel, her faithful station wagon took exception. Its protest came in the form of a burned out clutch at a particularly lonely spot on (Please Turn to Page 6)

UNITED WE STAND

It is now a matter of history, that certain disputes, through the good offices of U. N. have been settled peacefully. Just to cite one case, we would recall for you the persistent efforts of the U. N. on behalf of Indonesia, whereby that Republic obtained its independence through peaceful agreement with the Netherlands.

In Greece it is generally realized that the unceasing U. N. watch over its northern borders, has contributed largely to the amelioration of a dangerous situation threatening Greece's independence.

When the Republic of Korea was attacked, collective U. N. action to resist the aggression was improvised and succeeded in repelling the aggressor. However, much of that story remains to be written.

In the fields of economic and social advancement, equal rights and self determination of peoples, respect for human rights and advancement of dependent peoples toward self government or independence, the United Nations system on the whole has been steadily developing into the main center for international planning and action of both an emergency and a long-term character toward these goals. It is upon just such long-range planning that the settlement of problems involving international stability and good feeling among the peoples of the world, will largely depend. The functions of the United Nations are peace-creating and the creation of the conditions of peace will in a large measure result in providing the economic and psychological framework within which the majority of mankind finds life livable and worthwhile.

May we never be numbered among those who would tell us the United Nations has been a failure. Let's study the record.

On Wednesday of this week, the United Nations entered its seventh year as a going concern, a world wide organization dedicated to the never-ending task of helping peoples everywhere to find security from war, freedom and independence for themselves, and mutual economic and social progress.

On October 24, 1945, the United Nations came into being in a political atmosphere far different from that which exists today. Five great powers had then emerged victorious from the world-wide struggle against Germany, Italy and Japan, and as permanent members of the U. N. Security Council, under the Charter, they appeared united still in a new campaign for peace. But events of the past six years did not confirm the early optimism that they would continue to cooperate in the peace that followed victory.

The founders of the organization never conceived that its mere establishment would of itself remove or prevent conflicts and differences of national interests, aspirations, cultures and beliefs, nor would it assure in advance the future good conduct and good faith of governments in all circumstances.

On the contrary, they considered that from that time forward, a world organization was the one essential and primary instrument, to be available in all circumstances, through which the member nations could over a period of time, develop adequate means for controlling unlawful international conduct on the part of any government and for preventing those differences which inevitably arise between nations from leading to further world wars, with the consequent denial or destruction of the political, economic and social progress of the peoples.

JUDGE LEYDEN FOR SCOUTING

In a transcribed radio interview broadcast, Talbot B. Dunn of Allendale, general chairman of the "Dawn-to-Dusk" campaign for funds, interviewed Superior Court Judge J. Wallace Leyden, of Hackensack, president of the Bergen County Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the "kick-off" breakfast held Sunday morning at Nystrom's.

Judge Leyden claimed that the financial support of the entire area is necessary to successfully carry out the scouting program which is aimed at producing better citizens who will do their "duty to God" and carry out their responsibilities toward their country, their neighbors and themselves.

Declaring that the Scouting Movement is in a position to tip the scales in the direction of liberty, Judge Leyden said "the nations of the world stand at a crossroads, one leading to the freedom for which our country stands, the other leading to oppression, to slavery and to principles to which this nation will never subscribe.

Since boys of scout age today will in a few years be facing the world on their own, Scouting is attempting in a three year program from 1952 to 1954 to prepare youth for a world of tomorrow. The cost of such a program to provide facilities and year round supervision of camping, professional leadership, literature and volunteer training for about 12,000 boys, is estimated at $100,000 for 1952 alone. The Judge said, "We are dealing with youth in its formative time of life and we can't spare dollars to do this job."

Talbot Dunn, in commenting on the campaign for funds, was high in his praise of the enthusiasm and determination with which the various communities were approaching this great undertaking.

U.N. Is Six Years Old

UNITED NATIONS DAY
October 24

On this date, six years ago, the Charter of the United Nations came into force. On this date U.N. reaffirms the aims of the organization, recalls its achievements and pledges to continue all efforts to realize its purposes: Collective measures against aggression, promotion of peaceful settlement of disputes, international action for economic and social progress, aid to peoples on the road to independence. These are the main avenues along which U.N. advances into its seventh year of existence. Throughout the world, in every field of human endeavor, U.N. and its affiliated agencies continue action towards the achievement of these goals of the Charter.

Jim Secor, owner of Secors farms is busy figuring out how to grow pumpkins with wheels. Some brutes he has weigh over 60 pounds.

On Tuesday night, at the Fox Theater in Hackensack there will be a "Salute to Scouting" show at which time reports will be made from the 46 towns participating in the campaign an interesting program will be provided by stars of stage, radio and television.

Interested folks are still wondering how the Firemen made that "purple" coffee at the recent card party.

Joy Ride on UNICEF's Transport
Camel caravans, horses, donkeys and flat-bottomed river boats are among the means of transportation used by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), to distribute milk, food, raw materials and medicines to needy children in some 60 different countries around the globe. No village is too remote, no conditions are too difficult for the transportation of these life-giving supplies. This illustration shows the arrival of one of UNICEF's transports of the Greek village of Skafi in Macedonia.

Young Homemakers Corner

By NANCY COOK-ANS Features

In the silverware field, our attention is drawn to a unique and new development in the construction of flatware . . . the first one-piece silver knife handle in sterling silver history, perfected by the Gorham Company. Since the days when Paul Revere and Jabez Gorham were silversmithing spoons and bowls for Colonial homemakers, the possession of sterling silver has been a cherished tradition.

In the past, however, sterling knife handles were made from two pieces of silver, imprinted with a pattern, then soldered together at the side seams. Now, from a sleek tube of sterling, an exclusive process fashions a one-piece knife handle with no side seams—producing a deeper-cut, finer pattern detail and a handle that will not discolor along the soldered edges.

This new process permits a fine cement fill instead of lead in the handle which means that, even if you, accidentally drop the knife, it won't dent or nick; and water will never seep into the knife handle to allow it to loosen from the blade.

Ownership of finely-wrought silver is indeed a symbol of rich heritage—and, as such, represents an important investment—so, select your silverware with care. A pattern which embodies this newly-developed one-piece construction, for example, will give many additional years of wear and help preserve the original beauty of the design.

Mrs. DREXLER AND CO.
the road; and it is a pity that space limitations prevent quoting Mrs. Drexler's colorful story of the waiting and repair adventures which ensued for the party of eleven emigrants.

All's well that ends well, however, and even the horse and pony finally completed the hegira (by van) in good health. All are happy but miss Allendale. Mr. Drexler is fast clearing his mind of former Planning Board worries, too, since Wayne (in DuPage County, near Elgin and St. Charles and about 35 miles west of Chicago) is strictly a general-store rural community of only about 50 homes.

Back here in Allendale, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Freeman have settled in as the new owners of the former Drexler house at 50 Powell Road.

Sixty-six tables were in play at the local fire department's annual card party held at the Firehouse last Friday night. About one hundred door prizes were given away.

Twenty six firemen attended services last Sunday at the Archer Methodist Church.
