The tap and ballet dancing classes, sponsored by the PTA will resume Saturday at the regular time at the firehouse.

FIRE DESTROYS FORMER RESIDENTS AUTOMOBILE

A short circuit was the cause of a serious fire which did extensive damage to a 1948 Mercury, belonging to W. G. Scott of Franklin Turnpike, Ho-Ho-Kus, formerly of Allendale.
The fire occurred Wednesday at the intersection of Crescent and Franklin Turnpike. The local fire department responded to the alarm with 10 men. Second lieutenant Everett Straut was in charge.

Monday January 7, 8 p. m. Church Family Night. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Robert F. Thomas noted doctor, educator and preacher of the Great Smokies. For the past 25 years Dr. Thomas has served the people of the southern mountains with a total missionary program that has transformed the spiritual and physical life of the people.
Under his direction Pittman Community Center has brought the Gospel of Christ and the healing of bodies, and quickening of minds to the people of this area.

Recently the life of Dr. Thomas appeared in biographical form under the title of "So Sure of Life", by Violet Wood. It created such interest that it was circulated in magazines under the title of "The Jeep Angel". Dr. Thomas and his jeep are a familiar sight in the untraveled places of the southern mountains.

The meeting will begin with a devotional period in the Church sanctuary. Then Dr. Thomas will speak and answer questions. Following the meeting a tea time and informal period of fellowship will be held in the Hall. The meeting is opened to all who care to attend.

William Dewsnap who has been a patient at the Paterson General Hospital, returned to his home on Thursday.

MOTORISTS HAVE HARD TIME ON HILLSIDE AVENUE

There was many a disgruntled motorist on Hillside Avenue Monday when one after another had a flat tire. It seems that an upholsterer's truck dropped a large box of tacks which were strewn over Hillside Avenue, doing all the damage.

Bronson Williams of Powell Road, both for general display; West side, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powers of Hillside Avenue, doorway; Mr. and Mrs. Nils Spilling of Hillside Avenue, window and door, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Haythorne of Dale Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vincent of Hillside Avenue, both for general display.

Each of the eight winners received two holly trees as an award.

The Allendale Lion's Club will meet next Thursday night at 7 p.m. at the Allendale Bar and Grill. It is hoped every member will start the New Year right by attending this meeting.

Professor and Mrs. John Hohenburg of Columbia University were guests New Year's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gurdon Simmons, Dale Avenue.

The Council Chamber in the War Memorial Building was the scene of the reorganization meeting held Tuesday.

Mayor Leslie Johnson paid tribute to his councilmen for their excellent record of attendance at meetings and to the members of the other governing bodies for their devotion to the jobs that had to be done.

Borough employees were particularly efficient, said the Mayor and a special commendation went to the Planning Board for its activities in 1951.

Mayor Johnson felt that the adoption of a town Fire Code in 1951 was a worthwhile accomplishment. The progress made on the Town Master Plan was satisfactory. Somewhat disappointing, however, was the lack of public interest in Council meetings.

A tribute was paid by the Mayor and Councilman Frank McCord to Councilman Ed Grofsiek who had served by appointment during 1951.

Helen Hanson, Frank McCord and William Illingworth were sworn in, the former two for three year terms and the latter to fill the unexpired term of Ed Grofsiek.

An ordinance establishing a grade for Harding Avenue had its first reading. Second reading and public hearing will be January 24.

Councilman Mayo A. Harvey was elected president of the Borough Council. Changes saw Albert O. Scaforo named to the Zoning Board, replacing Councilman Illingworth; while Mrs. Robert Wilson was named desk marshal to replace Mrs. Ceely.

Other board appointments saw Arthur B. Fowler named to the Planning Board for 6 years; while Councilman Helen D. Hanson and Building Inspector Werner Baarek were named as Borough representatives to the Planning Board. The Council also confirmed the election of Fire

Chief Martin Wetteraw and Assistant Chief Walter Rumsey. It also set the second and fourth Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the War Memorial Building for regular meetings, and fixed the rate of interest for delinquent taxes at 8 per cent.

The list of appointees, and in some cases the salaries fixed at Tuesday's meeting follow:

Council committees, with first named as chairman finance and insurance, Harvey, Cobb, Mrs. Hanson, and Elwood T. Critchley; public safety, Cobb and Critchley; water, Critchley and Harvey; streets and roads, McCord and Cobb; buildings and grounds, Illingworth and McCord; parks, lights, and new construction, Mrs. Hanson and Illingworth.

John A. Christie, attorney, $350 retainer; Oswald L. Sanborn, auditor, $1,450; Harvey W. Beswick, engineer, $350 retainer; Baarek, building inspector, $400 and 25 per cent of fees; Mrs. Robert Cross, municipal court clerk, $150; David M. Colburn tax search officer, all fees; Borough Clerk Charles R. Vollaro, assessment search officer, all fees; George W. Prince, shade tree commissioner; Peter L. # True Christmas Spirit Felt from Archer Creche

On the Sunday before Christmas when the lights were turned on the Nativity Crib in front of the entrance to Archer Memorial Methodist Church, it seemed to put the Christ Child back into Christmas for many of the people who came daily to admire and stayed to pray.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS TAKE INTERESTING HIKE
Five members of Troop 59, Boy Scouts of America participated in a day hike through a portion of the Bear Mountain section of Interstate Park on Saturday, December 29th. The hike was under the supervision of William B. Buhlman, Scout Master and Robert G. Roswell, Assistant Scout Master. The hike was planned by Glenn Hall, the Troop Hike Master. Scouts Samuel Ochlipinti, Ralph Grossmann, Jr., Frederick Kanning and Gregory Price completed the group.

A number of trails were followed—Island Pond, Appalachian, Arden-Surebridge, Ramapo Dunderberg, Dr. Dunning, White Bar, The Lemon Squeezer, a rock formation one of the points of interest in the Park was visited. The troop also visited the Boston and Pine Swamp Mines. These mines were operated in Revolutionary War times and the ore was taken to Ringwood to be smelted. Ore from these mines was used to make part of the chain that was stretched across the Hudson River to keep the British fleet from attacking West Point.

The primary object of the hike was to give the Scouts an opportunity to practice Scoutcraft and to pass tests for advancement in rank. Hikes of this nature are held as often as possible, and overnight or longer hikes are held when the weather and calendar permits.

Transportation to and from the starting point was furnished by Edwin Hall, W. James Hall and Robert Roswell. On Monday night, January 7th, the Troop will hold the annual Charter night. All Scout parents are invited to be present.

E. T. Second Class Bradley Dargue, stationed at Boston, Mass., spent the holiday week with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson of New Street.

The Creche is exquisite in the detail of its creation and is a work of art that will long be treasured by the community. It is the hope and dream of its originators that additional details may be added from year to year, yet retaining its simplicity wherein lies its charm and appeal.

Mrs. Abbe Rose Craven, local artist, who conceived the idea of this project, is grateful to all who helped her in so many ways. Mrs. Craven is deeply indebted to Mrs. S. E. Staines who worked closely with her in the creative aspects of the enterprise. The historical research necessary for authenticity was ably done by Miss Marie Quackenbush who also did all of the work on the Christ Child. She was also responsible for the biblical herbs many of which she grew in her own garden. An indispensable factor was that of the lighting which had to produce the desired effect and that was ably executed by R. S. Haythorn.

To Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Goetschius a special word of thanks must go for their gracious hospitality in permitting the use of their basement as a workshop and studio while the Creche was being assembled.

Others whose work was indispensable and greatly appreciated were the Methodist Youth Fellowship and their friends who worked untiringly especially as the deadline of completion approached; Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Staines; Mr. and Mrs. R. Robbins, Mrs. H. Goodrich, Mrs. J. M. Christopher, Mrs. B. Parker, Mrs. J. M. Standing, Mrs. W. G. Bartle, Mr. Martin Husing, Mr. A. Anderson, Anita Peterson, Beth Goodrich, Lynne Hall, Isabelle Ivany, Joan Christopher, Anne Helmuth, John Creelman, Meta Brown, Paula Standing, Martha Goetschius, Harry Goodrich, Jr., Don Brown, Jimmy Bodine, Franklin Meeks, Dick Howie, Howard Craven and Mr. G. Quackenbush.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbot B. Dunn of East Allendale Avenue were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Burnett of Schenectady, N. Y. and formerly of Allendale. Their daughter Jane who had been spending a few days as the guest of Gail Burnett, returned home with her parents.

Mrs. Manley Ackerman, of Woodland Avenue, is a patient at the Hackensack Hospital where she underwent an operation last Friday. She is reported to be making good progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gerken and children, Eileen and Albert Jr., of Bradford, N. H., formerly of Allendale are holiday guests of Mrs. Gerken's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb of Troquois Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Nils Spilling of Hillside Avenue were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Thorlief Berntsen, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernt Spilling of Allendale and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stormo of Jackson Heights, L. I. at a New Year's Eve party.

RING OUT THE OLD, RING IN THE NEW

The beginning of a New Year is always a time of sober reflection for most of us regardless of where we find ourselves at the stroke of midnight December 31. In the solemn silence of a Cathedral service or in the boisterous tumult of a night club, or even in a gathering of friends in one's own living room, there is a pause for a backward glance at the old year which is as a tale that is told. With hope in our hearts, we look forward to the New Year and as we greet friends with "Happy New Year" we really mean it. But what will insure that happiness?

As we look around the shopping centers with which we are familiar, we find across the window of some stores a banner which reads "Clearance Sale". What has happened? On New Year's Day while most of us were resting up from a hectic holiday season, the merchant was busy with his stock and deciding what should be retained and what should be reduced in price for a quick clearance. He had decided to rid himself of that merchandise which it was not to his advantage to retain, thus leaving room for the goods for which his customers are asking.

Perhaps a little stock-taking in our personal as well as our national and international life, would not be amiss at this time. We have built up reserves of animosity, prejudice, jealousy and greed which are a hindrance to our development in every way. Let's have a "Clearance" and leave room only for friendliness, tolerance, understanding and unselfishness which will not only enrich our personal lives but make for better relations in the family of nations.

Surely that would mean happiness for us all when peace on earth could be established and families separated by reason of war could once more be reunited.

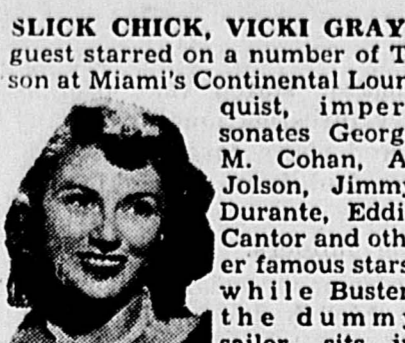

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go:
Ring out the false, ring in the true.
Ring out the false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.
Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.
Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ, that is to be.

MOVIES, MIKES and TELEVISION TALK
BY LYN WILSON—ANS Features

SLICK CHICK, VICKI GRAY and her "tar" Buster, who have guest starred on a number of TV's top productions, open this season at Miami's Continental Lounge. Vicki, a "society" lady ventriloquist, impersonates George M. Cohan, Al Jolson, Jimmy Durante, Eddie Cantor and other famous stars, while Buster, the dummy sailor, sits in this lovely lap and heckles her and the audience with his wise cracks. For some time, TV has had an eye on Vicki, who is considered "our nation's finest lady ventriloquist." Says she: "Buster, being a sailor, naturally has the wonderlust but recently he has been needing me to do a TV stint and to keep him happy I may have to pamper his whim one of these days soon."

WE SALUTE PEGGY WOOD, star of CBS-TV's "Mama," for winning the Royal St. Olav Medal, an award given her by Norway's King Haakon for furthering cultural relations between Norway and America—by way of her interpretations on "Mama." The story is of a Norwegian family who settled in America at the turn of the century. It is listed among the nation's top ten TV shows and has won numerous awards. King Haakon's custom of bestowing the St. Olav Medal on foreigners, who have bettered relations with his country, was instituted by him in 1939 and Miss Wood is the first American actress to have received the honor.

ACTION on the home front is almost as hectic as that in the studio for Eve Arden, star of CBS' Sunday "Our Miss Brooks" radio show. Eve's family includes recently-acquired hubby Brooks West, two adopted daughters—Liza, six, and Connie, three—Nipper, the dachshund, and two Siamese cats, Ham and Schlem. Her teaching is no idle chatter. Liza started to cook at the age of four and is quite accomplished at that and playing the piano while Connie, who is slightly young to have mastered many arts, cares for her own clothes as does Liza. Their job may not be fancy but Eve throws in a little elbow grease on week-ends to make sure they're spick and span for Sunday School.

The Allendale Press, Editor,

I am not a man who spends his time writing letters to the newspapers. There are a lot of other people who do it all the time and, I am sure do it better. But there is one thing on which I would like to sound off, and that is the fight against polio.

As you probably know, I am the father of six children. Every one of them means more to me than anything else in the world, including all the world championships rolled into one. I am writing you as another father and not as the world's heavyweight boxing champion.

As a father I would like to get over the idea that I believe we should all get behind this fight against polio. The only way I know to do it is to give all the support we can to the 1952 March of Dimes this January. Maybe you can help with a piece in the paper about it.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is putting up a terrific scrap against this disease which cripples and sometimes kills our children and the fight seems to be getting tougher all the time. I think the March of Dimes should have all the help we can give it. Just a suggestion but I had to say it.

YOUNG FOLKS MEET AT STANDING HOME

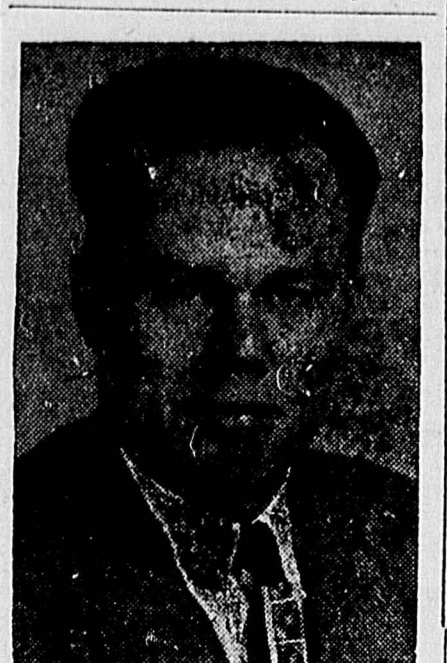

The Evening Circle of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of Archer Memorial Methodist Church held a holiday party for the college crowd and M.Y.F. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Standing, West Maple Street, last Friday night.

The Rev. Harry W. Goodrich gave a talk on the 'Friendship Circle' and led in prayer. A discussion period followed with the young folks telling of their experiences at college. Games followed and the hostess group served refreshments which were enjoyed as only such a group know how to appreciate "good eats."

Among those who attended were: the Rev. and Mrs. Goodrich, Phila Staines, from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.; Charles Buckholtz, from Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa.; Cadet Richard Davis, West Point, N. Y.; Joan Christopher, Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa.; First Class John Hoyer, home on leave; Pvt. William Widnall Speaker At Realtor Annual Fete

The building industry, particularly home building, in the United States, will be given a thorough investigation by a Congressional subcommittee of the Currency and Banking Committee. That announcement was made by William B. Widnall, Representative of the Seventh Congressional District of New Jersey, at the monthly luncheon of the Ridgewood Board of Realtors in a Ridgewood restaurant this week.

WILLIAM B. WIDNALL

Widnall, Representative of the Seventh Congressional District of New Jersey, at the monthly luncheon of the Ridgewood Board of Realtors in a Ridgewood restaurant this week.

The disclosure by Congressman Widnall of the coming investigation confirmed earlier reports from Washington on the subject. Members of the subcommittee have not yet been appointed but Widnall will be one of the Republican school students, Paula Standing, Beth Goodrich, Ann Staines, Patsy Christopher, all of Allendale and John Clifford of Ramsey.

members on the committee of seven. The Northern New Jersey legislator stated that preliminary investigations have uncovered many cases in which there had been outright misrepresentation on the part of home builders.

Inferior materials and workmanship had wrought much hardship on buyers of homes in many states especially in Oklahoma, Texas and California. Certain sections of New Jersey are also affected and they include Bergen County.

The investigations may begin in this section of the country. Newark will likely be selected as the focal point for Northern New Jersey investigations. Witnesses will be requested to appear before the committee, and if they refuse, the group will have the power to subpoena them.

According to Congressman Widnall disclosures unearthed by the committee may be as far reaching in the building industry and in the field of building as those of the Kefauver committee on crime.

It is expected that the hearings will result in stiffer building codes and more thorough inspections by community, state and federal building authorities. Widnall stated that lax inspections and what he thinks is connivance between inspectors and builders have been responsible for the abuses that are so wide spread. Much of the blame may be thrown on the shoulders of the Veteran Administration who are responsible for investigating properties before the authorization of GI loans.

DRISCOLL SUPPORTS HOOVER REPORT

Continuation of the campaign for legislation embodying the Hoover Report economy program today was described as "tremendously important" by Governor Alfred E. Driscoll.

Governor Driscoll's views were contained in a letter to Donald V. Lowe, chairman of the New Jersey Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report with headquarters in Newark. The Governor's statement: "It is tremendously important that the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report be continued."

"The present world crisis, which has required this government to spend huge sums for national defense, stresses the urgent need to complete the reorganization of the executive branch of our government so that we may put a maximum number of tax dollars presently devoted to administration."

The Governor was one of about 75 New Jersey leaders, recently polled by the Citizens Committee for their views on the economy legislation, which has languished in Congressional committees since its introduction last March.

Adoption of the program, Hoover Report advocates say, would result in saving nearly $6 billion annually, now lost through duplication, waste and inefficiency in federal governmental operations. The New Jersey Citizens Committee, and others like it throughout the country, are urging taxpayers to bring pressure on their congressmen for speedy action on the program when Congress reconvenes.

The Citizens Committee, Mr. Lowe said, are hopeful that the program will be adopted before June, so that it can't become a political football when the presidential campaigns get into swing next summer.

Wash Those Blues Away

These days you owe it to yourself and to others to keep your spirits up and your morale high. The world needs people who don't get down-hearted, who are able to stay on the job, nerves steady and chin up.

Sometimes the simplest prescription is the best. And that's true of chasing the blues and bucking up morale. What can be better for this purpose than a good old-fashioned tubbing in soap and water?

You have often proved it to yourself by accident. After a good hot bath, with plenty of water and luxurious lather, you feel like a pre-inflation million dollars. It's just not human nature to feel gloomy when fresh from the tub. You have washed your cares away along with the day's dirt, and you can face the world again. No better method of building up the morale can be found. Try it and see.

Only a few precautions are needed for best results. Relax in water that is warm, but not too hot. It is the warm soapy water that makes you clean and refreshed—too hot water may be stimulating rather than relaxing. Use a long-handled brush for scrubbing your back, both for cleansing and for giving you that relaxed feeling. A brush with very soft bristles is best for both purposes.

There is a lot of difference in soaps, too, says Katherine Potter, director of beauty and grooming for Procter & Gamble. Mild, complexion soaps such as Camay or Ivory are kind to the skin and make a bath more enjoyable. They keep your skin soft and smooth—an easy way to make you ready to face the world with baby-freshness and grown-up courage. To step up the morale, step into the tub! (ANS)

10 RULES FOR HEART TROUBLE

Here are 10 Commandments for "living with your heart:"

- 1. Find a doctor you respect, obey him and cling to him as though he were your most precious possession, as he is. 2. Tell him the truth at all times and encourage him to call you in for periodic check-ups. 3. Pity the fat man; the statistician numbers his days. 4. If your brain earns your living, be moderate as a week end athlete or laborer. 5. When the snow drifts high, let some younger fellow shovel out the driveway. 6. Avoid self-dosing. "He who doctors himself has a fool for a physician." 7. Fortunate is the man who has a mild heart condition and knowing it, learns to live with his heart. 8. Plan to "take time out" daily, weekly, yearly—for rest. When you rest, your heart rests, too. 9. Health is more than the absence of disease. Don't worry. If you have cause to worry, do all you can to remedy the cause and stop worrying. 10. Be your age.

EXPERT TELLS HOW TO TAKE XMAS TREE DOWN

Putting Christmas away is not half as much fun as hanging the greens. So brace yourself and tackle it like any other major job, with a plan in mind.

If you're young—or even just very young in years—there's an element of sadness to taking down the Christmas tree. But looking at it with a practical eye, Christmas trees become fire hazards as soon as the needles begin to dry. And you needn't put it off because taking down the tree is a tiresome job, for Miss Marghette Jepsen, Bergen County Home Agent, tells how to go about it methodically.

"Put your storage boxes on a card table or portable cart near the tree and take off the breakable ornaments first," Miss Jepsen suggests. "Wrap each one in tissue paper and place it in a box with cardboard dividers. Wrap ropes and other string ornaments around cardboard just as they came from the store. To avoid broken electric bulbs or bent wires, carefully place the lights back in their original carton. Tie all boxes shut, label them, and store them in an out-of-the-way place to avoid 11 months of handling."

When the tree is finally stripped and out of the way, take down other decorations and if you have time, press the ribbons before packing them away in a box. After a once over with a vacuum cleaner, the tree won't even be missed—in fact, it will seem nice to be back to normal again.

"The next chore is to settle the Christmas 'thank you's,'" the New Jersey State University specialist says. "Fortunate is the family with many children who has kept a list of what came from various relatives and friends. For courtesy and from the standpoint of good management, 'thank you' notes should be written as soon as possible after gifts are received.

"As for cards, some families with large Christmas lists keep names of persons to whom they want to send cards next year in a notebook. This may seem somewhat business-like for something that should be pure sentiment, but the list comes in very handy when you settle down to address cards again!"

And if you don't feel that you must store those Christmas cards away in showcases, remember there are organizations which would like to receive them.
