From her new home in the! little village of Wayne, Ill. has comes another typically fascianating letter written by Mrs. Vivienne Drexter, Allendale's much-missed 'Dog Warden'. One of the Allendale neighbors to whom Mrs. Drexler addressed this latest round robin letter has passed along a few excerpts which seem particularly worth publishing as glimpses of Midwestern small-town

After speaking of the local Women's Club meeting (to which she was invited as guest by no less than six of the ladies of the 'village', Mrs. Drexler tells this little item about coming home: 'We had ordered venetian blinds for our living room and our bedroom which is on the ground floor and faces the front, and we've been waiting since Thanksgiving for them; we have felt as if we were living in a goldfish bowl. although everyone says why bother with blinds, there's no one around. Anyway, when I . . returned (from the club meeting) I happened to glance up at the windows and there, to my astonishment, were venetian blinds-and down, too. No sign of anyone or a truck. A kitchen chair was standing in the middle of the bedroom floor, which the gentleman had evidently used to stand on; well, evidently finding no one home he decided not to waste the trip, and since no one locks their doors and we don't even have the keys for our house, in he came, dogs to greet him and everything. Oh, well, it all goes to make things intimate and cozy, and I hope he enjoyed himself." Out there, apparently, "pigs is pigs" in a big way. Says Mrs. Drexler: 'I'll be riding along a nice quiet country dirt road, nothing but farmland on either side, when suddenly an immense porker, or a little one, which has been lying in a past ure close to the road, quite un seen and safely fenced in; will give a loud, very loud frightened grunt, scrambling to his feet and running off at incredi ble speed. Immediately another hundred piggies of all sizes, which have also been taking their afternoon siesta, follow suit, grunting and squealing and putting as much distance between themselves and Shamrock (the horse) as they possibly can. It's enough to startle any self-respecting horse.29

'Sidney came in quite breath less yesterday," Mrs. Drexler goes on to say, "to tell me a poor little cat was over by the railroad station; it was so cold and he felt so sorry for it. could we have it? HELENE PASQUIER

Thirteen year old Helene Pasquier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michel Pasquier, Brookside Avenue, had the distinction recently of having a prize winning story "Temptation" azine of the Girl Scouts.

Helene, who will graduate from Allendale Grammar School in June with the Class of 1952, was scooped on her own award. One of her classmates called her attention to the story before she had read her own copy of the magazine. The Troop is proud of its talented writing member.

CALLS FOR AID BURING CARD PARTY

Just as the Ambulance Card Party was getting underway on Thursday night there was an urgent call to transport an accident victim to Valley Hospital in Ridgewood. Pete Cauwenberghs and J. Tackleberry and Archie Farrell responded and took Fred Mac-Ewan of 9 Lincoln Place, Waldwick to Valley Hospital, suffering from two broken legs sustained when he was knocked down by a car. Other calls made during the week were as follows: Mrs. Frain, Summit Avenue, Waldwick to Valley Hospital with P. Cauwenberghs and Bob Kaufhold in attendance; Mr. A. Ten Eyck of Waldwick to Good Samaritan Hospital, Suffern with Cauwenberghs and Kaufhold in attendance; William Miller, 47 Orchard St., Midland Park to Valley Hospital attended by J. LOUIS LARSEN NOT GUILTY OF DEATH OF CAR PASSENGER

A County Court jury in Hackensack Wednesday decided, after an hour's deliberation that Louis F. Larsen, 18 of 404 Brookside Avenue, is not guilty of causing a death by reckless driving.

Larsen was driving on Long Hill Road, Oakland, the night of July 15, 1951 when he faired to round a bend in the road. His car careened 90 feet off the thoroughfare, struck a large tree, bounded 28 feet backward and knocked over a sapling, according to the po-

His passenger, Joseph Villarosa, 17, was thrown clear and fatally injured.

G.O.P. CLUB OPENS FIRST OF MEETINGS

About 30 people attended the Republican Club meeting Tuesday night to hear Mayor Leslie Johnson talk on all phases of Borough work. It was noted by Mr. Johnson that published in the March issue about 55 residents of the Borof American Girl, official mag- ough are engaged in working for the Borough, some as paid workers and others on a voluntary basis. There was an interesting question and answer period when the Mayor gave some very enlightening answers. His answers appeared to satisfy those present.

The next meeting will be addressed by Mayo Harvey, President of the Council who will speak on finances. This is a subject with which he is very familiar, being chairman of the finance committee. Date of this meeting will be announced at a later date.

Mrs. Shirley Cross, committee woman, introduced some of the official family who will speak at future meetings.

Mrs. Norman Critchley served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Harry Hazen was a guest recently at a shower held for Miss Emma Vriesema at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vriesema, 55 South Central Avenue, Ramsey. Mrs. Henry Walcott was invited but unable to attend.

Mrs. Herbert Flandreau, Dale Avenue, has just returned from Rhode Island where she spent a week with her sonin-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haire.

AMBULANCE CORPS HOLD CARD PARTY

In spite of last Thursday's freak snow storm, there was a good attendance at the Ambulance Corp's card party. However, while ticket returns have been most successful in Allendale, it does not appear that the goal will be reached at this time. Those who still have returns to make are asked to do so without delay,

MAC NAMARA PRAISES LOCAL GUN CLUB

Lester G. MacNamara, superintendent of the Wild Life Department for the State of New Jersey, commended the work being done by the Allendale Rod and Gun Club, as the most outstanding in the State, when he appeared before them at their regular meeting Thursday night at the Legion Hall, Franklin Turnpike, Following his comments, McNamara showed motion pictures of wild life projects underway elsewhere in New Jersey. The pro jector was operated by Herb ert Clarke.

In conjunction with the club program of setting out food for wild life during the winter fourteen members set out fo Morris County where they dis tributed corn and greens on Sunday.

Despite the icy roads approximately 120 diners put the seating capacity and the hard working men to a severe test. Not one heavily laden waiter tripped and not one dish was broken by the amateur dishwashers whose main problem was to make 33 cups and saucers do the work of three times that number. While the men have been taking what bows they could considering their aching backs we have it on the authority of Bob Thomis who chairmaned the event that without the ladies it couldn't have been done. THE RED CROSS NEEDS YOU

Dr. Ralph Bunche, member of the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations, in a few trenchant sentences has lifted the subject of Brotherhood out of an atmosphere of mere sentimentality and has brought it down to the level of stark reality.

"In this atomic age the principle of human brotherhood has a greater and more vital relevance than ever before in history. Nations cannot live in peace until men learn how to live together in understanding harmony. It is in the interest of all of us, therefore, and in the interest of the nation, that we give practical application to the democratic principle of brotherhood in all of our daily relations."

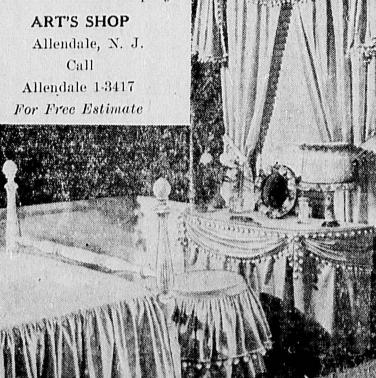

It is significant that Brotherhood Week should precede the fund raising drive of the American Red Cross, Surely, there is no existing democratic organization that does more to amplify the ideals of brotherhood than this organization. In peace or war, wherever the need arises, the American Red Cross is in the vanguard to render assistance. No sooner does disaster strike, be it fire, flood, tornado or other calamity involving human suffering, than the American Red Cross is on the job. This organization does not stop to look at the color of a man's skin or the slant of his eyes. All it wants to do is relieve suffering, provide shelter, food and clothing to those who have been bereft of all their possessions, regardless of race, creed or color. Surely this is the essence of brotherhood.

In time of war, the work of the American Red Cross is a matter for the records which have been written gloriously in succeeding wars in our lifetime, and are still being written in Korea. Thousands of our boys owe their lives today, to the ministrations of the Red Cross on the battlefields and in the field hospitals.

This is your Red Cross, maintained by your donations of money and volunteer services and helped in its work by your donations of blood. The time has come again for the annual fund raising campaign and the goal of $85,000,000 seems staggering but it must be met, and will be met, if everyone does his share. A donation to Red Cross should be a thank offering either for help received or to a kind Providence that has spared us, while others have had to

The Long and Short of It

This gown plays no favorites. One style is made three ways, to flatter your arms or cover up as desired. With long, sleeves to the wrist, there's a collar to finish the neckline. The same style collar finishes the neckline of the gown with short, full sleeves. while the gown on the left is collarless and sleeveless, with shirring over the shoulders to match the shirred waistline. All are made of smooth-to-the-skin Celanese acetate tricot which launders in a jiffy, requiring little or no pressing. A popular attraction is the fact that the fabric is not too sheer, and no extra slip is equired for boudoir wear. These are shown in lovely new colors give or wear oneself, (ANS Features) the letter writing contest on

"Why I Like Cubbing".

The Rev. H. W. Goodrich, Edwards, Hughes, George Lott. pastor of the Pack's sponsoring Church gave the invocation.

The food was prepared by the mothers of the boys. Each table had a birthday cake which was lighted by the denners and assistants.

After the dinner, the tables were cleared and a few games played. The mothers had a rubberband facial, led by Hughes and the dads had a needle threading contest led by George Ericksen. Cubmaster Donald Anderson led the children in a balloon bursting game.

Anderson introduced Committee Chairman Norman Kershaw who introduced the guests of honor: Tre Rev. Goodrich Mayor Leslie R. Johnson, Chief Marshal Robert Wilson, Paul D. Clundt, District Scout Ex ecutive of the North Bergen County Council, Mrs. Clunds and daughter, Carol Ann, and past Cubmaster Arthur Ahrens.

The den mothers and Mrs Clundt were presented with corsages made by Den 6, under the direction of Robert Thom as who for lack of a den mother is taking care of this den.

The charter was presented to the Rev Goodrich by Clundt.

A gold seal certificate was presented to the Pack for an outstanding window display in one of the local stores during Scout Week.

The 1951 Crusade award was presented to Cubmaster Anderson by Clundt.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to the den mothers: Mrs. John Monaghan, Mrs. William Hughes, Mrs. Norman Kershaw, Mrs. John Cebak, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. Frank McCord, Mrs. Charles Cayanagh, Jr., and Robert Thomas.

Committee registration cards were presented to Kershaw. Freeman Winslow, William
