FIRST AID CLASS CONTINUES STUDY

It was also shown how to handle a patient with a broken back to avoid further complication of injuries.

Half way through the period Pete Cauwenberghs was summoned to Dr. Campbell's office to attend a patient with a broken ankle. He took some first aid students along for the experience. Emery Turnure and Jack Occhipenti went along to assist.

Council Passes Record Budget Despite Protests

A meeting that ran into the wee small hours marked the budget hearing of Allendale Borough Council last Thursday night. About 100 residents were present, many of them to protest certain items in the $270,000 budget which will raise the tax rate .49 points. After more than four hours of hearing different citizens express themselves, Mayor Leslie Johnson called for the resolution and the Council passed the budget unanimously.

WILSON BOY WINS WRESTLING TITLE

Chuck Wilson, son of Chief Wilson, a senior at Ramsey High School and captain of the wrestling team, won honor and glory for himself and his school last Saturday when he defeated Ralph Hutchinson of Newton, a former State champion, in a bout in the 130 pound class at Leonia. The winning of this sectional state championship was recognized with the presentation of a medal suitably inscribed.

On Saturday, young Wilson will compete for State championship in the same class at Elizabeth, N. J. where the bouts will be staged morning and afternoon.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HOLD CANCER DRIVE

Mrs. Carlton Hutchinson was hostess recently at her home on West Maple Avenue, to members of the Woman's Evening Club Cancer Drive committee. Plans were completed for the drive which will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 4 and 5 throughout the Borough.

Mrs. Norman Critchley is serving as co-chairman and other members of the committee include: Mrs. John Monaghan, Mrs. E. W. Hoppen, Mrs. Elwood Critchley Mrs. Thomas Zane, Mrs. Hans Kirschenbauer, Mrs. Charles Papon, Mrs. William Bartle and Mrs. Michel Pasquier.

All club members will participate in the town-wide canvass under the direction of section captains.

The committee pointed out that nursing service for cancer patients is free and that several Allendale patients have already been cared for by the society. The Cancer Research Society's slogan for this year is 'Cancer Strikes One in Every Five—Strike Back, Give to Cancer.'

In addition to canvassing for funds, the committee have announced that club members will participate in the research the society is making for the next four or five years, in checking men between the ages of 50 and 65 in their smoking habits. There is an indication that inhaling cigarette smoke may be a contributing factor to lung cancer, hence the survey among smokers.

Isn't it about time those lights on Allendale Avenue were fixed up with some new globes. The lights sure look bare.

H. C. Faleke, a former councilman questioned the advisability of spending $36,650 on capital improvements out of the surplus account when that money could have been used to lower the tax rate. During the evening, this same capital improvements account was under constant discussion which at times became so heated that Mayor Johnson had to rap for order in threatening tones.

Councilman Mayo Harvey, chairman of the finance committee, defended the expenditures contemplated and said that each was necessary. These included $10,000 for the Crescent Avenue improvement, $6,000 for the improvement of the Plaza Municipal Parking Area, $1,350 for a new police car and $14,000 for a new fire engine and equipment.

These listed expenditures seemed to be the sore spot with those present. Walter Dunsby asked the council if they did not think it bad business to spend such large amounts on capital improvements when the borough had exhausted its borrowing power. Ernest Arlt, a resident from Crescent Avenue, who identified himself as an authority on public improvements, having been advisor to the State of New York for 15 years, challenged the council on its right to enact the pending ordinance involving the Crescent Avenue improvements. Arlt's attorney has described the pending ordinance as a "Misuse of public power" and will represent his client at the hearing on March 13. Dunsby has also a legal opinion on his rights in the matter since both he and Arlt have property on Crescent Avenue and must construct their own sidewalks or be assessed by the borough for having the job done if the ordinance is passed.

Charles Smith, another former councilman, reminded the audience he had voted against the original fire truck 24 years ago when it was purchased and would do so again. Councilman Cobb explained that the present truck is unsafe to drive. Another objector to this expenditure was a Mr. Coombs who had heated words with Fire Chief Wetterauw.

A considerable amount of time was spent on this question of sidewalks until Mayor Johnson reminded the group that the public hearing on the ordinance would be March 13. This promises to be a dilly as several property owners have stated they will have attorneys to represent them.

The dinner will include special casseroles made by members and we are assured that they will not be run of the mill dishes but something very special. Recipes may be purchased for 10 cents each.

CONSULTANTS GIVE VIEWS FOR RAMSEY H. S.

The nature and scope of a survey report on future planning for the increasing number of high school students was presented by representatives of Scott Bagby and Weaver Pangburn of Upper Montclair to members of the Eight Town Survey Committee at their regular meeting Wednesday night at Ramsey High School.

Sample surveys and a complete listing of details to be covered in the compilation of a proposed survey were presented and many questions of members were answered. The firm, expert consultants in the field of community planning and development, had been invited by the group in an effort to determine the best solution to the overcrowded situation that will exist in Ramsey High in a few years.

Other consultants that the committee has contacted included Klein and Jones of Allendale, Columbia, Rutgers, and N.Y.U. Rutgers replied that they do not conduct surveys of this nature and no reply as yet had been received from N.Y.U.

After discussion on the advisability of a survey as presented by Bagby and Pangburn, it was decided by the committee to invite Dr. Kenneth F. Woodbury, Assistant Commissioner of Education in New Jersey to the next meeting to talk with the group on future high school accommodation facilities.

Representatives from all eight districts were present at the meeting. The Allendale Ambulance Corps were pressed into service for two Waldwick residents this week. Mrs. Cloyd, 114 Wyckoff Avenue, Waldwick was taken to Valley Hospital by Pete Cauwenberghs and J. Phillips. Mr. Bates, 79 Hopper Avenue, was taken to Valley Hospital by Phillips and Bud Van Houten.

WANTED; Municipal Watch Dogs!

It was very evident from the tone of the budget hearing at last Thursday's council meeting, that at least 100 citizens in Allendale do not like the budget. What about the other taxpayers? Were they satisfied, were they indifferent or were they of the opinion of one former councilman who accused the Council of having their minds made up already?

We may never know just what kept the others away but it will be interesting to note the future gripes and their sources. We are willing to wager, they will not all come from the taxpayers who attended the meeting Thursday night. Alas, we still have the cracker barrel politician even if the cracker-barrel has long since disappeared.

Many disgruntled taxpayers felt an evening had been wasted Thursday since, as one put it, "we didn't get to first base". However, if such a meeting could make us feel mad at ourselves for not having attended other Council meetings to see the 'straws in the wind', then perhaps the evening was not without profit.

It has been suggested over and over again in these columns and was reiterated Thursday night, that residents of the borough should take a keener interest in local government. We elect men and women to office locally, and at the State and National levels then we promptly forget all about them until, in seeking to carry out our wishes, they tread on our political toes or they hit us in our pocket-books. Then we squeal. To say the least of it, this is not fair to the men and women who give countless hours of their time to serve us without any hope of reward, save the satisfaction that comes from trying to do a good job.

In a Democracy such as ours, the humblest man in the community may attend a council meeting and he may also, at the right time, request a hearing. Constructive criticism is always welcomed by any wise governing body and such an expression is of mutual benefit. But, such interchange had better be done while heads are cool and before issues have become controversial.

It has been said that of all words written or spoken, there are none sadder than "It might have been". Well, thank goodness we do not have to end on this cheerless note. There are going to be other Council meetings, other budget hearings, other deliberations. Let us maintain a lively interest in what goes on when the Town Fathers get together.

It will be good for us and good for them. This time next year, fewer of us will be suffering from shock — budget shock.

NEW ARCHER HALL TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The general public is invited to drop in at Archer Hall Saturday night and see what has been accomplished since October when extensive repairs, enlargement and beautification of the hall was undertaken. Since that time, seven new rooms have been added. This will house a High School Department, a nursery room and two general meeting rooms plus a new kitchen. In the main auditorium new floors, ceiling and painting was undertaken. In the basement, the old wood floor was taken out and a new concrete floor with asphalt tile has been laid. The ceiling and walls were redecorated. Much of the work was done with volunteer labor. Mr. Ivar Martin was general contractor and Mr. William Brower was the architect in charge.

School Notes

Kindergarten — Mrs. Baxter We have been very busy in kindergarten. Bonnie, Reed and Carole have been working on a big frieze about boats. It is almost finished.

We have also started our work book and are talking about pets now. The children have brought many interesting pictures about pet which are hanging on the bulletin board. Mark Huggenvik had a birthday party in school. He was six years old. He gave each of us a little favor and it was lots of fun.

Grade Three—Mrs. Amos Lt. Hopple of the Erie Railroad spoke to us in Assembly last week and showed us a movie about railroads called, "On The Tracks". We are going to remember what he taught us about safety. 1. Not to take a "Short Cut" across railroad tracks. 2. Never to throw rocks at passing trains, and 3. Never to put anything on railroad tracks.

Our room has joined the Junior Red Cross. We collected 4 dollars for the Red Cross. We are proudly wearing our Red Cross Buttons. In music class Mrs. Smithy introduced us to a new way of making music, playing tunes on glasses. We like making up tunes on them and playing little songs we know. We put water in the glasses to get the tones we wanted.

We have been studying about puppets and how they are made. We decided we would like to make some. We divided into groups and right now we are busy making puppets, stages, and writing scripts for our puppet shows.

In social studies we have begun our study of Holland and gathering and collecting Dutch objects. Patricia Davis brought in wooden shoes. Ian Lothian made a fine windmill, with his erector set, for our exhibit.

In Science we are studying about the Moon, in English, we are telling stories and learning to use correct English.

We have games in the Gymnasium. We are beginning to get things lined up for the May exhibit.

Freman Winslow has done a neat job with the Bulletin Board. Alexander Monaghan, and his Science Committee were very interesting Friday afternoon. So was Richard Cavanagh and his Art Committee, the previous Friday.

We are very sorry that Mrs. Knight, the teacher of the other Fourth Grade has been ill. Mrs. Craze substituted for Mrs. Knight. Ask Jean Lisack whether the paper was 'wrote' or 'written' by her. Bill Kershaw and Dick Cavanagh are doing a picture 'Washington Crossing the Delaware'. They worked under the table.

Deepest sympathy is extended by the class to our Principal, Mr. Paul O'Connor, who lost his mother on February 23, 1952.

Grade Four — Miss Norman March brings breezes loud and shrill, Stirs the dancing daffodil!

Since last writing two new pupils have joined us — Arlene Yanch and William Jenkins. We are glad to welcome both pupils.

On Thursday afternoon, we enjoyed a Safety Movie, and talk, both given by a detective from the Erie Railroad.

We are very sorry to learn that Mrs. Smithy is pretty ill, and certainly hope that by the time this appears in print that she is much better.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 59
On Sunday, February 24th, 14 members of Boy Scout Troop 59 participated in an all day hike from Tuxedo to Pam Jones Shelter. The hiking trails were tough, with snow in most places over the shoe tops.

Game trails were plentiful. The boys identified the animals from their tracks. Tracking games were played and 12 second class tests were passed.

Those on the hike were: Scoutmaster, Bud Buhlman, Assistant Scoutmaster, Bob Roswell; Boy Scouts Dick Ivany, Glen Hall, Charles Honig, Don Thurston, Fred Kanning, Wayne Smith, Robert Papon, James Youmans, Roger Hadel, and Jerry Davis; Committee-men, Bill Smith and George Price.

We hear the recently formed local band is in need of a snare drummer. Has anyone talked to Lew Thurston about this. We understand he is a "hunderinger".

Where there's wax, there's a way... so we welcome these "Shortcuts with Wax," prepared by the Stanley Home Service to lighten your cleaning chores and give your home a new luster.

To brighten linoleum. Self-polishing wax not only protects linoleum and lengthens its life, but eases the task of keeping a kitchen floor clean. Dust can be mopped up faster, spilled liquids wiped away without grease becoming embedded, dirt and food won't lodge in cracks or pits.

Wax on wood—always good. Floors and baseboards, polished with wax, add a gloss and richness to a room. Daily dry moppings are simpler. The wax protects the wood and helps keep it clean and unscuffed. You can dust venetian blinds easier, too, if they have a coat of wax.

Don't forget door jams. In homes with children, door jams seem to always carry fingerprints. The remedy... wipe off marks, apply wax. Future smudges come off more easily and each wiping won't wear paint thinner.

Kitchen cupboards—another trouble spot. A coat of wax pays dividends here, especially around the handles, where fingermarks appear. Even metal cabinets keep bright when protected by wax.

Do you have potted plants? A good idea is to wax shelves, table tops and mantelpiece under your flowers and plants to protect paint or varnish from water spills and dirt droppings.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR H. & P. SHOW
The Horse and Pony League met at the Firehouse Sunday evening with Barbara Walters presiding. Over thirty members attended. Gail Beckman reported on the tentative classes for the show.

Carol Thurston, chairman of the horse show has announced the following committees for the show: program, trophies & ribbons, entry, publicity, parking, admission, grounds, food sales, judges, lunch.

A field trip was discussed and the president will appoint a committee to decide where to go. Last year, members of the club had an enjoyable trip to Margaret Cabell Self's farm where they watched her jumpers at work.

The program committee showed movies entitled The Horses Gaits and The Maryland Horse.

Corporal Bob Hoyer left recently for California where he will attend an advanced training program in radar. He has been in the U. S. Marines for four months.

REPEATING ITS SUCCESS on radio, the televised version of "The Greatest Story Ever Told" has brought terrific listener responses. The third televised presentation was offered on February 24th, with a flood of mail following its showing. A fourth television presentation of "The Greatest Story Ever Told" will be given on Sunday, March 23rd, portraying "The Story of Lazarus." It promises to be the best of the series. It will be seen over the ABC-TV network, 7:00 to 7:30 P.M. (EST), taking the place of the Paul Whiteman Revue. As in the radio program, there are no credits or commercials in the televised version; only sponsor identification as required by law. The radio program continues as usual, over the ABC coast-to-coast network, every Sunday afternoon, 5:30 to 6:00 (EST), including the Sundays on which the telecast is offered.

DOUGLASS PARKHIRST is happy doing anything—connected with the art of thespian, that is. Doug's favorite business is acting; he's heard regularly on two daytime serials, NBC's "The Road of Life," and CBS' "Young Dr. Malone." His "hobby" is writing—TV and the legit stage. You probably remember a nunnal, which he wrote for his scripts on "Lights Out." And to make the picture complete, last season a summer theatre produced a play written, directed and starring Doug.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Archibald, hostess committee.

Mrs. F. McCord reported seeing a "first Robin" on Monday which made the committee feel much better about the snow which greeted them upon leaving the meeting.

LETTER FROM MRS. D.
The conclusion of Mrs. Sidney Drexler's lengthy letter started in last week's issue.

understood a branch of the Protective League for Animals of Allendale was now open for business!"

Regarding mid-western rural civics, Mrs. Drexler reports "We found that the town is run by a group called the Community Service Association, made up of farmers and business men who are interested in the village's welfare. They meet as a club and make themselves responsible for the management of the town, but have no legal right to enforce any regulations, they may make. A farmer comes as constable when needed and there is an old lady who is a Justice of the Peace. Apparently the residents of Wayne are law abiding citizens for as far as we can ascertain nothing exciting happens like a resident doing wrong — openly at least. Also it was interesting to find that the Wayne Women's Club sponsors and pays for the street lights..."

Mrs. Drexler added a closing note which cheered the Editors no little bit: "... I would like to thank whoever sent me a copy of the Ridgewood Sunday News and the Allendale Press. We now subscribe to the Allendale Press... it's nice to read what's going on."

Quite practically, Mrs. Drexler's letter was marked by her name for routing to eleven of her neighbors here, "and anyone else who cares."

CONSIDER BUDGET BEFORE BUYING HOUSEHOLD EQUIPMENT

"If you really need household equipment, now is a good time to buy", says Miss Margherita Jebson, Bergen County Home Agent.

"It's true that dealers and manufacturers hold larger supplies than they like of hard goods such as washing machines and refrigerators," she says. "But in spite of some slowness in retail business, prices will probably go up, not down. As materials and productive effort are transferred more and more from civilian to defense production, extra supplies of goods will disappear and there might be shortages of some things, substitution of materials and higher prices."

But don't let the prospect of moderate shortages scare you into buying household appliances you can't afford. Manufacturers state that in most instances the quality of appliances will not suffer because of substitute materials. Scare buying adds to inflation which hurts not only you but everyone else.

If you must buy equipment on a limited budget, Miss Jebson suggests you look first at the standard model and remember that it will last just as long as the deluxe one. Then which of the extra gadgets will be worth the extra cost of the more expensive model is a question you will have to decide for yourself. In general, supplies of house furnishings should be adequate. Prices will be somewhat higher.

As some of the present large surplus of television and radio sets are sold, they may cost a little more although they are not expected to go up drastically.

"Restrictions on the use of materials for the manufacture of furniture will be mostly for those items made of metal. Housefurnishings which are made with only a small portion of metal can often be changed so as to stretch supplies of the scarce materials without affecting the usefulness or beauty of the piece. This will help keep the output fairly well in line with the demand. Basic wood materials used in furniture are in good supply.

"Rayon has assumed some importance in rug manufacturing which has helped ease the wool rugs and carpet situation. Wool prices are also trending downward, but have a long way to go from the March peak. Household linens and blankets are in plentiful supply. Recent price declines, however, are not expected to continue."

STANLEY HOVER SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

Mr. Stanley Hover, father of Mrs. Frank Parenti, Jr., West Maple Street is a patient at Paterson General Hospital, suffering from a heart attack which occurred early Monday morning. His condition is reported as fair. It is expected that he will be hospitalized for about four weeks.

Mrs. R. L. Robbins 26 Inquois Avenue Allendale and Katherine Markon, 69 Morton Drive, Ramsey, were drivers of cars which collided last Saturday morning near the intersection of Franklin Turnpike and Warren Avenue, Ho-Ho-Kus.

The Ramsey woman was proceeding from Warren Avenue into the Turnpike and Mrs. Robbins was going towards the intersection when the right angle collision occurred. Some damage to the Markon car and none to the Robbins' car was reported.

COUNCIL PASSES BUDGET

(Continued From Page One) hearing, former Councilman Raymond Becker injected the thought into the discussion that the Council should buy only that which they have the ability to pay for. When he asked Councilman Harvey if the current budget was based on current needs the answer was yes. John Lothian, another former council member, told the Borough Council it was clear that the citizens of Allendale were against the current budget and their duty was clear in voting it down.

At 12:30 a.m. Mayor Johnson ordered the hearing closed. The swimming pool item of $250 was added to the Park's section of the budget and was approved.

The Mayor called for a vote and during the roll call Councilman McCord said that he had been elected on a ticket of no reduced taxes and would stand on that record. He elaborated on Cobb's earlier remarks that citizens ought to attend council meetings during the year and express their wants. In this way, the Council could do the bidding of the electorate. Mayor Johnson and Councilman Hanson thoroughly agreed with the remarks made by Cobb and McCord.
