CHILD PROBLEMS SUBJECT OF P.T.A. MONTHLY TALK

George Wolfson presided at the regular monthly meeting of PTA held at the school Wednesday night.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Alice Keliher, Professor in the department of early childhood and elementary education in the New York University, School of Education.

Dr. Keliher's talk was very informal but she held the interest of her readers from start to finish. In the beginning she posed the question: "If you had one wish for your children, and only one, what would it be?" Security, happiness and finding one's place in life seemed to be the best things that we could wish for our children.

One of the responsibilities of the parent is to see that a child is well adjusted emotionally. We must recognize that each child differs from the other in many respects. There is the difference in personalities, the difference in ability to learn, the difference in the rate of development.

Dr. Keliher stressed the child's need for the companionship of the parent yet emphasized the necessity for a child learning to make his own decisions, especially as he approaches adolescence. Conversely, the parent needs to relax with his children and retain the zest for life that is so characteristic of the normal child.

The annual covered dish supper which marks the end of PTA year, will be held at the school May 21. Members are asked to reserve this date.

The April meeting has been pushed forward a week, until April 23. Mrs. Smithley of the music department will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. George Horton announced that the dance recital, given by the PTA sponsored dance groups, will be held at the school, May 10.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by the first grade mothers.

Planning Board Discuss Master Zoning Maps

The Allendale Planning Board met Monday night at the Firehouse and heard several enquiries from property owners.

J. C. Turner of Ridgewood who is considering buying a part of the Tallman property, asked the Board if they would sanction his using Pittis Avenue as a right of way, since that was agreeable to Dr. Pittis. The Board had no objection.

POST OFFICE DROPS 10% POSTAL CHARGE

Postmaster Frank Farrell announces that on and after March 22, 1952, Allendale Post Office will discontinue the collection of the ten percent additional charge, and will sell all postal cards at the face value regardless of quantity.

WEST POINTER VISITS ANNAPOLIS ACADEMY

Cadet Richard R. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Davis of 83 Park Avenue, Allendale recently spent three days at Annapolis under the annual Cadet-Midshipman exchange program. This program permits each member of the Junior class to tour the other academy.

During his stay at the Naval Academy, Davis was quartered with his midshipmen hosts and attended classes with them. There were conducted tours of inspection including one to the expansive naval equipment testing laboratory.

Such an exchange program is geared to provide students of both academies a better understanding of the methods, missions, problems and limitations of the other in order to facilitate close cooperation between the two branches of the service.

An ordinance regulating the removal of top soil for sale or use outside the Borough of Allendale had its first reading last Thursday night at Council meeting. There will be a public hearing April 10 at 8:30 p.m.

Active Police Department Bring Seven To Court

Magistrate Herman G. Honig presided in Court Tuesday night.

Mrs. Larren of Ramsey was charged with all night parking on Franklin Turnpike and fined $3.00

Edward Laube, 11 Richard Drive, Waldwick was fined $10 and $3 cost when found guilty of travelling at 50 miles per hour on Franklin Turnpike.

Charles Karneck, Lincoln Avenue, Wyckoff was fined $5 and $3 cost for careless driving.

James Sciacca of Paterson who was driving with a permit and without a licensed driver in the car, was fined $10 and $3 cost and his permit was revoked.

Carl W. Simpson of East Allendale Avenue, Saddle River was charged with causing an accident through careless driving. He was fined $10 and $3 cost.

Dr. Godfrey Pittis of Myrtle Avenue Allendale and E. Garion of Ramsey who were involved in an accident on Franklin Turnpike recently agreed to withdraw charges and the case was dismissed.

Good to see Dr. Pittis up and around after his recent mishap. His broken left hand still in a cast.

Ralph Grossmann, a realtor in Allendale, has two lots on Cherokee Avenue which he would like to subdivide. However, as neither lot would be up to the regulation size required and as a variance would be required Grossmann was advised to bring the matter before the Board of Adjustment.

Ernest A. Abrams, West Allendale Avenue would like to build a garage on his property. Because of a curbing arrangement, he thought the property next to his home was intended for a road. A study of the maps, however, showed that no road was intended there and that the property is privately owned. Since Abrams will have to use the property in question in reaching his proposed garage, he was advised to contact the property owner.

W. S. Hughes was an interested property owner in viewing the master plan with regard to his property and the proposed parking area.

The Board approved the subdivision of the Harold Critchley property on West Crescent Avenue.

John and Helen Ackerman, 545 Hillside Avenue, who wish to build two houses on one lot were asked to submit maps showing how the houses will be related to the side lines.

A special meeting will be held March 26 to study the proposed ordinances governing zoning.

Fred Kaplan, representing, Bagby and Pangburn, Town Planning Consultants, explained preliminary planning, new zoning maps and the master plan. Albert Scauro, president of the Planning Board, suggested that more time was needed to study in detail the treatment of the still undeveloped areas of the Borough.

Democracy Does Work In Allendale

We have all become familiar with the phrase "Democracy at Work" but we had a splendid example of it last Thursday night when the public hearing was conducted on the much publicized ordinance governing sidewalks on West Crescent Avenue.

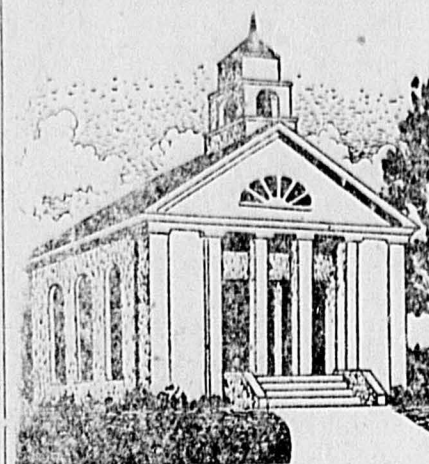

We do not propose to take sides on this issue. What interests us at the moment is the mere fact of the meeting itself.

About 150 citizens were present and as in any group such as that, there were the spokesmen who presented the arguments, pro and con. Each was obviously sincere in the presentation of his point of view and no one in the room was more generous in conceding the logic of an argument than Mayor Johnson. As an impartial observer, we were impressed with the tolerance of the governing body, the members of which were weighing carefully the different presentations made at the meeting. In spite of the lateness of the hour, everyone was given an opportunity to address the Mayor and Council on this subject which is of grave concern not only to the property owners in this particular area, but to the parents whose children must use West Crescent Avenue in going back and forth to school.

Some aggrieved property owners felt that they had been placed at a disadvantage in not having the necessary maps and cost sheets available for study. They felt that more time was necessary so that the professional men they had retained to advise them could be more fully informed and thus render a decision founded on the facts of the case. Full consideration was given to the possibility that a delay in preparation of the maps and other data may have affected the property owners adversely and the hearing was adjourned for two more weeks.

Regardless of what happens at the next hearing, we shall know that the whole procedure was done in the democratic way. Even if, as one spokesman hinted, the matter may be taken into court, that, too, is still one of the safeguards of our democratic way of life. When we can no longer defend our rights, when there is no redress for grievances, when there is no appeal, democracy ceases to exist. Then, sidewalks will be the least of our worries.

Mrs. Goetschius In science we have been studying about simple machines that help man do work. We also learned how running water, heat, wind, and electricity are used to do work.

Our study of Holland has been most interesting. We are enjoying stories and poems about the Netherlands in our readers, library books and books brought from home. We have learned several Dutch songs and are drawing pictures showing Dutch life. A film entitled "Children of Holland" which we viewed recently gave us an excellent picture of Dutch life. We learned how important the windmill has been in the life of this low country. Here we have a fine example of wind working for man.

Fourth Grade News

Mrs. Knight We all took home "dental diaries" some weeks ago and recorded on them the times we brushed our teeth. Some of the charts have come back and we hope that some good dental habits have been established. This was done in connection with our study of "Teeth and their care". We learned some interesting facts about caring for our teeth and wrote short stories. We completed the unit by seeing and discussing a film strip about caring for our teeth.

Paving Of Crescent Avenue Brings Out Large Audience

A hearing that grew heated at times was held by the Borough Council last week on the ordinance which calls for side walks to start at Franklin Turnpike and run along the west side of Crescent Avenue to Myrtle Avenue. At that point the sidewalks would switch to the east side of Crescent Avenue and run to West Allendale Avenue.

At the outset of the hearing Ernest Art asked for an adjournment of the hearing for further study of maps that had been made available to the property owners involved only a few minutes before the hearing opened. Said property owners have retained counsel and an engineer and felt that more time was needed for a study of the maps so that an estimate of costs could be reached. Art felt that the proposed work to be done would greatly exceed in cost the appropriation of $26,000. However, the Borough Engineer's estimate put the cost at a little more than $23,000.

On advice of the Borough attorney, John Christie, Mayor Johnson ruled that the hearing must be continued although a resolution postponing action would be in order.

Gil Job, a property owner on Crescent Avenue and spokesman for his neighbors, presented a petition claiming that the ordinance was "unreasonable, oppressive and discriminatory". At one point, Job threatened the Mayor and Councilwoman Helen Hanson sensed from the arguments presented, that some property owners favored installing curbs first, sidewalks later which seemed to meet with approval.

Council with legal action if the ordinance was passed.

Representatives of PTA who have long been advocating the installation of sidewalks in this section were attacked by Job who charged them with clouding the issues by contributing to the "Hysteria" that the whole question had roused. Job denied that there was any necessity for sidewalks since over a long period of years the accident toll in the area had been at a minimum. However, at this point Councilman Mayo Harvey read from a petition presented to the Council in 1946 by the PTA, citing the hazards to which the children were subjected while walking to school. Harvey noted that

This trussed-up youngster, only four months old, gets a drink of water from a Red Cross Nurse's Aide as he undergoes hospital treatment for a congenital hip condition. The Government has asked the Red Cross to train 100,000 of these volunteers for civil defense needs.

RED CROSS RETURNS GOOD IN BOROUGH

With incomplete returns reported from all towns in the current Ramapo Valley Chapter Red Cross fund drive, Allendale and Upper Saddle River lead the other towns in nearing completion of their quotas.

An example of the spirit with which the volunteer canvassers are being greeted this year is found in the story told by one worker. She was filling out a membership card for a young couple with a small daughter when she heard a strange clanking noise on the second floor. The noise was the result of the small tot's efforts to open her piggy bank. The youngster insisted that the worker accept the entire contents, 12 cents, for the Red Cross. She gave all she had. May the same spirit of generosity move every family in the Ramapo Valley Chapter area.

Job and most of the members of his family had signed that petition.

Henry Forshay rose to approve the Council's action and R. J. Thomas presented a letter signed by 101 citizens calling upon the Council to pass the ordinance.

After considerable expressions pro and con had been made, Councilwoman Helen Hanson asked if the property owners who were objecting to the ordinance would be in favor of having the curbs put in and paying their share. About 15 seemed to favor such a proposal. As the hour grew late, Councilman Frank McCord offered a resolution postponing action on the ordinance until the next Council meeting March 27.

SPORTSMEN CONCLUDE FEEDING PROGRAM

Last Sunday saw the conclusion of the winter feeding program of the Allendale Rod and Gun Club under the chairmanship of Peter Grimley. This year's winter feeding program has been the largest the group ever undertook and saw ninety three members and juniors out Sundays feeding the stock on the club's property at Milton and Oak Ridge. The club set out over 337 bushels of greens and 49 bushels of corn on the job. They constructed 51 shelters during the feeding program that started on January 6.

The men that took part in the feeding last Sunday were: Howard Door, William Door, Jr., John Boyle, John Schoeckert, Bob Anderson, Phil Scarella, William Hingsworth, Ralph Grossmann, Jr., Dick Prant, Jr., John Cleary, John Larsen, Wes Dillon, Ed Greiger and Peter Grimley. This Sunday the men are leaving the Schoeckert home at 9:30 to post their lands prior to the opening of the fishing season.

President Schoeckert expressed his thanks to the chairman and all the men who worked during the cold weather to provide and protect the stocking program that the club have embarked upon.

The duck feeding program that the group embarked on early this year in Allendale, Walldwick and Saddle River distributed to date 19 bushels of corn.

Local Red Cross Chapter Active In War and Peace

Did you know that over fifty per cent of the money collected in the Red Cross fund drives remains in the Ramapo Valley Chapter's hands for work on a local level? The money is used in your district to help solve problems of folks in your town.

Home service, the motor corps, the canteen, first aid classes home nursing classes, the blood donor program, all receive their share of the money you give.

The motor corps is a busy unit, indeed. Staffed by volunteers, the motor corps logged a total of 1044 miles in February, alone of this year. The mileage was accumulated driving invalids to clinics, delivering fund drive material to

It is impossible to tell the public the details of the home service cases because the Red Cross respects highly the privacy of the individuals involved. It is sufficient to say that each case is a drama in itself and the Red Cross is able to write the final chapter and provide a happy ending whenever possible.
