PTA TO HOLD "BACK TO SCHOOL NIGHT" OCT. 21

"Back To School Night" being held by the PTA at Allendale Public school at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, October 21, was the chief subject under discussion at the executive meeting of the PTA held at the home of the president Mr. Robert Thomas, Crescent Ave., Monday evening.

The annual affair to be held at the school is designed to bring parents into the classrooms where they will have a chance to meet the teachers and see the program of work their children are studying. The PTA announces that there will be two half-hour class sessions so that parents with more than one child in school will have a chance to visit two classrooms.

Before the classes are open to the public there will be a general meeting of all the parents and teachers in the school auditorium where short talks by the special teachers will be heard. The PTA urges all parents of new students to take this opportunity to come and meet with the teachers and get an inside look at school life as it is today.

VIRGINIA GELLER AT N.Y. SCHOOL

Virginia Geller of Schneider Road, Allendale, won an important Scholarship in a High School competition last Spring and has entered the New York-Phoenix School of Design of New York City where she is majoring in the Fashion Illustration course.

REMODELED 5 & 10 OPENS HERE TODAY

The remodeled Ben Franklin store in Allendale is scheduled to open today with the new owner, A. D. Winters, formerly of Butler, N. J. bringing to the local shoppers a fine, up to date store. New fixtures and counters are laid out in a most attractive manner. Over 8,000 items are stocked.

Mr. Winter, a buyer for Montgomery Ward for nine-years has added many items never carried in this store before.

BUSINESSMEN PLAN YULE DECORATIONS

The Christmas Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been announced. Mr. Elton Oakley will be chairman of the committee in charge of decorating the downtown area for the holidays.

Other members of the committee are Mr. Stiles Thomas, Mr. Archie Farrell, Mrs. Chris Althausen, Mr. Bernt Spilling, Mr. Henry Kraft, Mr. Tony Spinella and Mrs. Evelyn Grossmann.

EVENING CLUB TO START NEW CLUB

Mrs. Dorothy Mayferth Hillside Avenue is starting a merchandising club to raise money for the Woman's Evening Club. The club will draw lots once a month to select the winner. Merchandise will be handled by Brown in Newark.

LOCAL COURT HOLDS QUIET SESSION

Traffic violations were held to a minimum last month if Municipal Court records reflect driving habits in Allendale.

Only two violations were on the books at the session of Municipal Court held in the firehouse Tuesday evening. Magistrate Morris Scharf fined Gloria G. McGann, 109 Coloma St., Wyckoff, $12 and $3 court costs for speeding 45 miles an hour at the intersection of Hillside and W. Crescent Avenue.

Jacob Antrop, 55 E. Main St. Ramsey, was fined $10 plus $3 court costs for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 25-mph-an-hour zone. He pleaded guilty and sent in his fine by mail.

The case of Robert Morrison, 20 School St., Ramsey, and Walter J. Hartmann of New York was dismissed with $5 court costs charged to each. Cars driven by the two complainants collided at the intersection of E. Allendale Ave. and Franklin Turnpike last Friday. Magistrate Scharf dismissed the case because Mr. Hartmann had charged Mr. Morrison with careless driving in hopes of collecting damages. Inasmuch as the Municipal court can only handle traffic violations and is not a civil court, the case was dismissed.

NEWEST PARKING PLAZA NOW OPENS

The plaza west of the Erie Railroad station opened for commuter parking yesterday morning. Officer Frank Parenti was on hand to direct traffic in the newly finished parking area. The two islands which have been built will facilitate greater ease in parking and will provide additional not been completed and will not be done until spring. In the meantime however, the surface has been rolled and made ready for day long parking.

The macadam surfacing has all space.

MOWERSONS GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mowerson, 90 W. Crescent Ave., had Mrs. Ray Flumerfelt of Ithaca, N. Y. as their house guest last week. Mrs. Flumerfelt formerly lived in Allendale and returned for a visit with the Mowersons and other friends in the community.

Mr. James C. Rose, 506 Ridgewood Ave., Ridgewood, noted landscape architect and teacher at Pratt Institute will have his ultra-modern home on exhibit Sunday afternoon from 11 to 5 p.m.

All contributions will go to the Village School in Ridgewood. Mrs. Brunson Williams and Mrs. Edward deJongh of the Junior Woman's Club will serve as hostesses.

A dog belonging to Mrs. J. Moriarty of 59 E. Orchard St. bite Dr. E. Fielding of Waldwick yesterday morning. The mishap occurred on the Jones property. The dog will be observed for 10 days.

ordinance. The meeting was orderly, many objections were made in the form of prepared statements and at midnight the Mayor adjourned the informal public discussion. Next week the Allendale Press will give a full account of the proceedings.

ROD & GUN POST 5,000 ACRES SUNDAY

John B. Schockert, president of the Allendale Rod and Gun Club never demonstrated his talent for organization to a better advantage than last Sunday when he had 119 members of the club at the hunting grounds posting over 5,000 acres of beautiful country. Chairman Vince Lavinga had the work so nicely laid out in advance that the job was done in 3 and a half hours. Members from every county were there including the club's secretary, H. D. Albert. This is the first time in 12 years Mr. Albert with his cigars and polka dot bow tie has visited the grounds and Prexy John was really surprised. (When you surprise him thats tops).

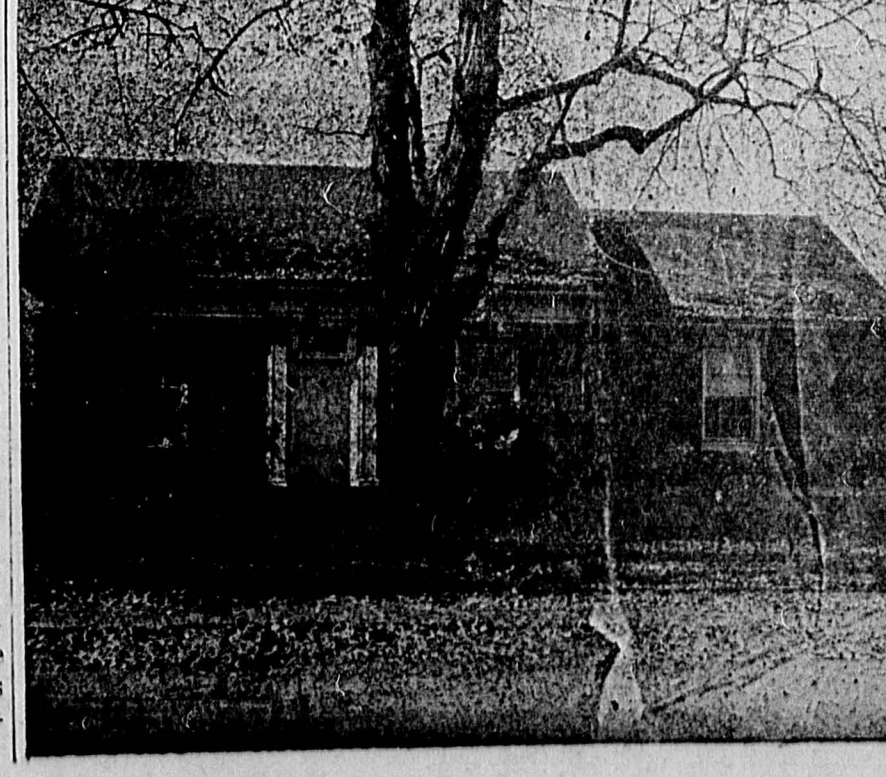

Several deer were sighted by the members and numerous rabbits were kicked up. This all points to a banner season at the clubs' grounds.

SON FOR WERNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Werner, Cottage Place, announce the birth of Eric Albert, born ten minutes before midnight Tuesday, Oct. 7, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Suffern, N. Y. Young Eric joins a brother, Roger Henry, age 4.

Anyone wondering what is going in on Crescent Avenue to run through the 16 inch pipe will be happy to know it is gas from the main pumping station.

MRS. THOMAS ENTERAINS GUILD

Mrs. Robert Thomas, E. Crescent Ave., entertained members of the Evening Guild of the Epiphany Church at her home last Thursday. Mrs. David Cooper, Powell Road was chairman of the business meeting which included discussion and preparation for the Annual Fair to be held at the church on November 15.

The new Allendale ambulance is here and already in active use. It will be formally dedicated and on display for the public to see at an open house to be held on Sunday, October 19, at the ambulance shed by the firehouse.

The Volunteer Ambulance Corps has also procured the resuscitator which will be paid for by the Lions Club from the receipts of the benefit magic show they are staging at Allendale school Oct. 24 and 25.

Mr. Archie Farrell, knowing that need for a resuscitator might arise, went before the Lions Club and asked permission to go ahead and order the appliance.

His foresight has already proved provident because the new resuscitator was used Tuesday morning to successfully bring Mrs. Mary Hackney of 136 Prospect St., Waldwick back to life. After two hours of administering oxygen to the patient, Mrs. Hackney recovered long enough to be given the last rites by Father Andrew J. Kalafsky of St. Lukes R. C. Church in Ho-Ho-Kus. Peter Cauwenbergs and Buddy Van Houten attended the ambulance call. Officer Frank Parenti took the call and made two trips to Waldwick with additional oxygen tanks. Mrs. Hackney died later in the day at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Suffern, N. Y.

The new resuscitator is a combination resuscitator, inhalator and aspirator and may be used on two patients simultaneously. It is also mechanically equipped to warn the operator of any errors in performance. By all standards it is the finest piece of equipment obtainable and gives members of the volunteer ambulance corps every assurance that they will be able to meet emergencies with the best equipment outside of a hospital.

HAROLD BROWN OFF CRITICAL LIST NOW

The many friends of Harold Brown Jr. of Woodland Ave., will be very glad to know he is now off the critical list after a serious operation performed 3 weeks ago at the Veterans Hospital in the Bronx.

Harold and his parents would like to thank all his friends for the many cards and letters he is receiving while he is convalescing.

PLAZA TREE GIFT FROM BORO COUNCIL

The handsome evergreen planted in the center of the island in Station Plaza is a gift to the town from members of the Borough Council.

Councilwoman Helen Hanson is in hopes that other civic groups or private contributors, will see the need for future plantings and donate evergreens or shrubbery to help landscape the new plaza.

REE QUACKENBUSH

Hi Neighbor,

This is an election year and it's up to you, as a voter, to keep your ears, as well as your eyes open. Television is going to trip up the rhetorical gold-wash boys.

We who watched the Democratic Convention saw and heard Mr. Stevenson state he was going to back the Roosevelt and Truman policies right down the line. On Oct. 4, 1952, we heard Stevenson say, "I don't believe America will entrust its future to the masters of a house divided against itself on foreign policy.

Now let's look at the U. N. record, Mr. Stevenson. Maybe your house contains the masters that are divided on foreign policy, or could it be that they have no policy at all? I quote from Edward R. Stettinius's address on Feb. 22, 1945, at the plenary session of the Inter-American Conference on problems of war and peace. He refers to the Crimea Conference, the Soviet Union, Great Britain and the United States. "The three powers thus pledged joint action to uphold the right proclaimed in the Atlantic Charter of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live and the restoration of sovereign rights and self-government to those who have been forcibly deprived of them by aggressor nations."

Sept. 24, 1945—seven years ago—the Soviet Union cast five more votes in the United Nations Security Council. All votes prevented applicant states from becoming members of the U. N. Those kept out of the U. N. were Japan, Libya and three semi-independent states of French Indo-China.

Russia wants a package of the month club for the U. N. . . . her five satellite states. May I ask if the U. N. is a success in peace through Russia's dictates? You criticize Mr. Eisenhower for using the word 'aim' yet the U. N. supplements operate under the cover of "War and Peace Aims."

Let's look to your party's foreign policy, Mr. Stevenson. Look back under the U. N. supplement No. 6, Mr. Roosevelt's report to Congress on the Yalta meeting, March 1, not always have its way 100 1945. "The United States will per cent nor will Russia, or Great Britain." Let's give Mr. Roosevelt credit. He was right about the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Truman, in his message to Congress, April 16, 1945, says, "I am depending on you to destroy greedy tyrants with plans of world domination, we cannot continue in successive generations to sacrifice our finest youth." Truman said he depended on Congress, yet, it was during Russia's good will tours that he screamed "red herring" at Congress, the representatives of "we the people," when they brought any treasonous Communist to light.

Let's look at Washington, Feb. 18, 1944: Soviet Russia in her ruthless peace terms flung at Finland, without consultation with her United Nations partners as pledged in the Moscow Conference and the Atlantic Charter. Senator Reynolds (a Democrat), chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, summed it up "Before the war is over, all of Europe will be under the Soviet domination—regardless of the fine statements contained in the meeting of United Nations. What Russia is demanding of Finland is what she will ask of every country she conquers and make no mistake about it".

Senator Wheeler (a Democrat) declared, "The U. S. can-MORE on Gal 6 not and should not agree to Russia setting up a puppet government in Finland, if we are going to live up to the Atlantic Charter." Could these Democrats have been right and other Democrats wrong? Whose house has been divided on foreign policy for more than 10 years?

Mr. Stevenson says, "When I practiced law, we looked for jokers in a contract." It's still not too late to look for your jokers in the contracts. Mr. Stevenson. Wit will not cover up the contracts Joe Stalin has made, and Joe Public isn't going to be the Joker while television brings the facts into our homes. . . . 'till Friday

the Better Box Lunch

VARIATIONS IN LUNCH BOX MENUS is an every-morning challenge for wise mothers who know that "something different" in the box makes for better appetites at school. With this in mind, you doubtless dream up variations in cookies, in fresh fruit and crisp vegetable items, and of course in sandwich fillings—but what about the sandwich bread itself? True, you can buy variety in bread, too, but the homemade kind will be a choice and welcome change.

For example, as a whole-grain cereal, Grape-Nuts turns out a homemade bread that's tops in nourishment as well as taste-appeal. Spread it with a filling such as cream cheese, pack it off to school with a youngster who's going to be hungry as all get-out by noon, and be assured that he'll have the best in solid sandwich satisfaction! With school well under way, reach for the Grape-Nuts all decked out in its brand-new package and try your hand at baking a quick bread, and with a menu like the one below—the Better Box Lunch will be well on its way to noontime success!

Cream Cheese on Grape-Nuts Bread*
Carrot Sticks Apple
Peanut Cookies
Milk

GRAPE-NUTS BREAD*

- 1 cup Grape-Nuts
- 2 cups sour milk
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons melted shortening
- 3 3/4 cups sifted flour
- 4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt

Combine Grape-Nuts and sour milk and let stand 15 minutes. Beat egg and sugar together thoroughly, then add to Grape-Nuts mixture. Add shortening and mix well.

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, and salt. Add to Grape-Nuts mixture and beat until batter is smooth. (This will be a very stiff batter.)

Turn into two greased 8x4x3-inch loaf pans. Let stand 45 minutes. Then bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done.
