Group To Decide On School Banking Idea

One of the shortest meetings in recent years of the Board of Education was held Tuesday at the Allendale School.

President James Standring opened the meeting promptly at 8 p.m. and the final rap of the gavel at 10:45 ended the short session.

Board members attended an executive session following the regular meeting.

A committee made up of board member George Wolfson, Principal Paul O'Connor along with the Parent Teachers Association and the Teachers was given the chore of delving into the banking program the PTA is anxious to start. President Standring summed up the position of the Board by stating "while we are heartily in favor of saying for our children, we have the job of education for our children first and such projects as banking, dancing and meetings must not interfere with our primary aim." The committee was instructed to report back at the next meeting.

A bedside teacher was approved for Jerry Davis when he is able to resume his studies. At present he is being treated for badly burnt eyes caused when a playmate accidentally threw some lime in his eyes while marking the playing field. The youngsters eyes are still very sore and doctors are studying the effects of his ordeal.

Trouble with the new oil burners occurred recently and Mr. McPeck reported the inconvenience was held to a minimum by the servicing by the custodian James Kievet. The guarantee clause is being studied to see if the company is still responsible for proper operation.

Most of the members planned to attend a dinner and meeting of the Federated District Boards of Education of Bergen County Wednesday night at the Ridgewood High School. Dr. Rubinger formerly of the Ridgewood school was to be the principal speaker.

WOMANS CLUB TO HOLD TINY BAZAAR

A "tiny bazaar" will be held by the Ways and Means department of the Allendale Woman's Club on December 9th according to Mrs. H. Rademaker, chairman. The bazaar which will start at 2 p. m. will be followed by a card party and spaghetti supper. Details of the afternoons activities will be announced at a later date.

Members of the art department of the Allendale Woman's Club and their friends will visit the Steuben House in Hackensack on Tuesday, Nov. 25th. Those wishing to attend are asked to meet at 12 noon on the 25th at the home of Mrs. Martin Husing, Elmwood Avenue.

SCHOOL BOARD TO BE GUEST AT PTA MEETING

Members of the School Board will be presented formally to the public at next Tuesday night's PTA meeting at Brookside school. This meeting is open to all parents of school children interested in hearing from the school board members, of the duties, hours and accomplishments of the Board.

A short business session will open the meeting at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. Mr. Robert Thomas, president, will introduce the members of the board and they in turn will give brief talks covering their duties with the Board.

This meeting is designed to acquaint parents with the members of the School Board and to establish a clearer understanding of what the Board is doing and its responsibilities toward the educational program in Allendale.

A question and answer period will follow the talks and Board members James Standring, L. R. McPeck, George Wolfson, Mrs. Frederick Kanning and Mrs. S. Geismar will answer inquiries from the audience.

ONLY THREE CASES ON LOCAL DOCKET

Magistrate Morris Scharf heard only three cases on Tuesday night at the firehouse and at the conclusion of the brief evening, the coffers of the fine box was still empty.

Mrs. Margaret Farmer of Waldwick who drove her car on top of a drain pipe on Crescent Avenue recently had her case dismissed. Mrs. Farmer claimed oncoming car lights had blinded her and caused the accident.

A blowout caused the car driven by Walter De Freese of Ramapo, N. Y. to demolish the hydrant in front of the Legion building according to Mr. De Freese's testimony. His case was also dismissed. His insurance company will pay the damages amounting to $150.

Fred McDonald who was involved in a collision recently had his case postponed until Nov. 25 for further investigation by the Allendale Police. No trace of the other car has been found as yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor T. Krzymowski, 159 Summit Avenue, Ramsey, announce the birth of a son, Dean Robert, on November 1 at Valley Hospital. Baby Robert joins two brothers; Kent, age 9 and James, age 6. Mrs. Krzymowski is the former Catherine Dillon of Allendale.

Mrs. Kunisch Injured When Driver Loses Control On Busy St.

Mrs. Walter Kunisch and her four year old son, Arthur, of 24 W. Maple St., miraculously escaped being seriously hurt Tuesday morning when a car driven by William Tallman of Powell Road, went out of control in front of the Grand Union in the downtown business section.

Mrs. Kunisch was walking on the sidewalk in the driveway between the Grand Union and Kaplan Cleaners and was struck down by the runaway car which jumped the curb, crashed into a cement lamp post, snapped it off at the base, and stopped short of the building occupied by Kaplan Cleaners.

Mrs. Kunisch suffered bruises and shock. She reports feeling "much better" but is remaining under a doctor's care.

Mr. Tallman, 90, was not injured. He is reported to have told police that in his attempt to park in front of the Grand Union, his foot slipped from the brake to the accelerator, and he was unable to regain control of the car before it surged across the sidewalk.

Mrs. Kunisch reports that she first realized danger when out of the corner of her eye she noticed a fire coming up over the curb. She managed to push her son, Arthur, who was walking on the inside, out of the path of the car but could not avoid being hit herself.

Archie Farrell, Pat Job and David Kaplan arrived on the scene immediately and calmed Mrs. Kunisch. Mr. Farrell called Dr. Frederick Kanning.

The car Mr Tallman was driving was a 1952 Chevrolet with fewer than 500 miles registered on the speedometer. The front end of the new car, including the grill work and the bumper, was smashed.

Police Chief Robert Wilson, who was on duty at the time of the accident, says that no charges have been preferred.

EPIPHANY CHURCH ANNUAL FAIR OPENS TOMORROW

A festive carnival spirit and decor will be featured at the Annual Fair to be held by the Epiphany Church at Parish Hall tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The time for the door to open has been pushed up one hour and the fair will start at 2 p.m. and last through the dinner hour until 7:30 p.m.

Last minute preparations have been made to provide those who visit the fair with many inexpensive and useful Christmas gifts. Among the items for children will be a table full of hand puppets.

Supper will be served to those who wish to stay late at the Fair and for those who plan to eat at home, a large selection of home baked goods will be on sale.

Increased Tax Bill Seen In '53 From County Hike

Allendale citizens may be faced with higher county tax assessments and the borough thus may be forced to contribute a greater amount to the county tax funds under a recent ruling of the State Tax Board, it was disclosed this week by Mr. Fred A Tetor, head of the Bergen County Board of Taxation.

BRUSH FIRES KEEP FIREMEN BUSY

Two brush fires which occurred within fifteen minutes of one another last Saturday morning caused Assistant Fire Chief Walter Rumsey to cancel all burning permits in Allendale until sufficient rain has fallen to relieve the drought which exists in this area.

Mr. Rumsey said that on outdoor burning at all would be permitted within the borough until some good hard rain fell.

The first call for assistance in putting out a brush fire came from Art Corey, custodian of Archer Memorial Church. He was burning trash in the wire incinerator behind the church and left briefly to go into the building for more trash. He turned and looked at the fire just as he was about to enter the church and noticed the fire had leaped out of the incinerator onto a pile of leaves. The fire spread so quickly that he had the Rev. Harry Goodrich call for help from the firemen.

No sooner had the firemen returned to the firehouse after extinguishing the fire behind the church, than another call came from the home of A. W. Blanchard, 62 Heights Road. It was another trash fire which had escaped the incinerator and threatened to spread through the woods behind the Blanchard home.

David Blanchard, 15, burned the trash in the incinerator and left when he thought the fire was completely out. He then climbed up on the roof to clean out the gutters and from this vantage point noticed that the fire was not out, but was spreading through the dry leaves.

The firemen answered the call and quickly got the fire under control. Both Mr. Corey and the Blanchards had fire permits, but the combination of dry leaves, and a high wind made burning out of door dangerous.

POLICE ISSUE 106 FIRE PERMITS HERE

Desk Marshal Mrs. Dorothea Wilson turned her monthly report into the council last night as follows:

70 Radio Calls, 28 Ambulance calls, 2 Still Arms, 3 Brush fire, 9 water calls, 1 Civil Defense call and 106 fire permits.

The literature department of the Allendale Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Kindred, 15 Cottage Place this afternoon at 1:30.

Future action on the ruling is not clear but apparently a state legislative act would be needed to change the prospects of higher evaluations or a court decision necessary to declare the recent ruling invalid.

The new threat came about through a State Tax Board action overruling the decision of the County Tax Board in an Englewood case. The County Board has ruled that assessments shall be 50 per cent of land valuation and 30 percent of the market value of homes. But under a 1937 law cited by the City of Englewood, all assessments should be the full market value and the State Tax Board affirmed this law in overruling the County Board's decision.

Specifically, 100 property owners in the City of Englewood had protested that they were being assessed above another percentage evaluation—35 per cent of 1951 market value set by the county after the 1945 county wide equalization program aimed at setting uniform assessment standards for Bergen County municipalities which then competed to see which could provide the lowest amount of tax monies to the county fund. Upon the objection of these 100 property owners the City of Englewood cited the 1937 law and was upheld by the State Tax Board.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that the new state constitution adopted in 1948 does not set a firm amount but says only that property shall be assessed and taxed locally under general laws and by uniform rules. All real property . . . shall be assessed according to the same standards of value.

POLICE REPORT BUSY MONTH TO COUNCIL

Chief Marshal Wilson's report to the council last night was as follows:

70 Radio calls; 6 traffic summons issued; 28 traffic warnings; 3 accidents, no injuries; 1 Suicide; 6 assists to ambulance; 2 dog bite cases; 2 lost horses returned to Wycokoff; 1 lost and found person; 9 assists to other departments and 5 dogs impounded.

The Republican Club of Allendale will hold their first post election organization meeting at the firehouse Monday evening at 8:15. The public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served at the close of the business session.

COUNTY HOSPITAL HOLDING ANNUAL DONATION DAY

When the dietitian at Hackensack Hospital places peas on the hospital menu for lunch, the equivalent of 160 family size cans of peas are required to serve the entire needs of hospital patients and personnel. This was revealed today by the purchasing agent, Sidney Wiltshire, in a discussion of Donation Day plans.

This annual affair, arranged by the Women's Auxiliary of Hackensack Hospital, will be held Thursday, Nov. 20. On that day, thousands of staple foods and similar items will be turned over to the hospital in bags provided by the Donation Day Committees of the 40 local branches of the Women's Auxiliary. Last year's total Donation Day gifts to the hospital were valued at $5,000.

Arrangement for Donation Day have been in progress for some time under general Auxiliary chairman, Mrs. C. E. Blackford. Vice chairman who has assisted in the organization of the advance arrangements is Mrs. Clayton E. Coffin. Bags have been distributed to service organizations, schools, stores and individuals in all communities of the hospital service area. With the aid of Boy and Girl Scouts, Hackensack High School youths and others, these will be brought to the hospital and sorted on November 20. Vice chairman in charge of this phase of Donation Day activity is Mrs. Russel Grant.

First National Bank To Distribute $92,500 In Christmas Club Money

It's only November, but have you your Christmas lists all written? Know what you want to get for Aunt Ann, for Uncle Bob, for Deseey, for Joe, for Pops and Mom? And all your other friends and relatives? All set to do your Christmas shopping early and avoid the rush?

The First National Bank of Allendale has informed the Allendale Press that getting up the list, not raising the money for Christmas gifts, is the hardest part of the holiday planning for 533 foresighted residents of Allendale and the surrounding communities. Thanks to their membership in a Christmas Club, their money is all ready and waiting to be spent with local merchants, according to Edward Hamilton, Cashier, of The First National Bank of Allendale.

On November 21st, the Allendale bank will begin distribution of $92,500.00 in Christmas Club checks to 933 people who have been saving regularly toceive instruction and help in getting their donations to the hospital from the Donation Day chairman and their committee in each local community. Anyone who wishes to participate in the Donation Day giving to the hospital may also do so directly by bringing their food items directly to the main entrance of the hospital on November 20, marked with their name and address.

wards their Christmas shopping expenses.

The Christmas Club at The First National Bank of Allendale is larger this year than last when 854 people saved $79,200.00.

By setting aside a regular amount each week as "dues" in the bank's Christmas Club, members assure themselves a practically painless method of raising money to pay for the holiday presents they plan for family and friends.

The Christmas Club idea of saving a set amount for 50 weeks to take care of Christmas spending-money was born nearly a half century ago in a small shoe factory in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, was taken up by the local bank and soon spread from coast to coast. The First National Bank of Allendale has explained to The Allendale Press that Christmas Clubs are not profit making schemes for this or any other bank.

Banks operate Christmas Clubs because people have found by experience that it is so much easier to set aside a small amount each week than to get up a lump sum just as they are starting out to shop. The Allendale bank and other banks profit in community good will and the bank hopes that, through the 50 weekly visits the Christmas Club member makes to his bank, he will become acquainted with the many protective services and conveniences the bank has to offer.

Christmas Club popularity has grown greater almost every year since its inception. Many members who began saving just for gift purposes have gained the thrift habit and have continued to save in regular savings accounts.

American Legion Auxiliary for Post No. 204 will meet at the home of Mrs. John Fox, Mallinson St., Monday for their regular meeting.

The Auxiliary announced that Mrs. Fred Hagerman, President, attended the County Auxiliary meeting held at the Legion Hall in Rochelle Park, as Allendale's representative.

A son, Kenneth Alan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lake 42 Ferguson Place, Ramsey, November 1 at Valley Hospital in Ridgewood. Mrs. Lake is the former Grace M. Hoyer of Allendale

CARE OF THE BLIND DISCUSSED BY JUNIOR WOMEN

The Junior Woman's Club enjoyed a full program at their meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Louis Fallon, Franklin Turnpike.

Mrs. William Byrne, chairman of the meeting, showed a movie on braille provided by the Association for the Prevention of the Blind. The Junior Woman's Club has for many years had a state project of service to the blind, and it was in this connection that the program was planned. Hand-made articles made by the blind were sold at the meeting.

Mrs. J. Kaufman, a representative of the North Bergen Nursing Service, gave a talk on the work of the free nursing service and told how it has benefited Allendale in the past years.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. A short business meeting preceded the program.

Honors Long Past Due

In the excitement of the recent election for the Mayor and Council we failed to say anything about the vote on the swimming pool and the library, other than the bare facts of the voting. However, now the smoke of battle has cleared and we can get around to the two items that interested local voters in the election.

We were for both items on the ballot and are glad to see that the voters did approve them and by such a hearty majority. It shows that the taxpayer, the one upon whom the burden will fall to maintain each project realized the need for such services in the community. While over 200 did not approve, enough did, and now the council will set up the monies necessary for their operation. We know they must on the library but the swimming pool is something else. However, we believe the people want it and they should appropriate the necessary funds for both.

We have a suggestion to make that should be approved with even a greater degree of unanimity than the votes showed and that is changing of the name of the Allendale Library to the William Lee Memorial Library. It seems pointless after all that been said about the contributions of the Lee's to the library to explain the reasons behind such a suggestion, so we will forego the pleasure of reminding our readers of their contributions. Mr. Lee would not approve and we must respect his wishes. The borough council, members, when they take over the operation of the institution in January can make such a move and we urge them to do so. (If you feel the same, why not urge your town officials along this line. Then the generations to come that will use the library will always have cause to remember the generosity of the Lee family).

On the swimming pool, certainly the organizers of the group that spent countless hours in establishing the recreation center should have some recognition of their labors. We know a few of the founders but rather than name them and forget a few who served so valiantly we would suggest a suitable plaque be erected by the grateful townspeople to these men and women. The cost of such a bronze name plate is small price indeed for the beautiful pool they have given us.

Action on the part of the council is necessary on both these items and we urge their immediate attention so that delay, if any, will be held to a minimum.

Exercise Important Part Of Baby's Bath Sessions

By ANN GARY-ANS Features BABY'S BATH SHOULD BE A SUNNY, agreeable spot in the day's routine. The mother who includes extra attention during bath-time is helping baby to feel she is loved and cherished, and thus contributes to the baby's over-all sense of security.

The bath itself should be gentle and untroubled. After careful towel drying, a baby lotion treatment will add to baby's skin comfort. Use velvety white baby lotion all over the body but especially in the folds and creases of skin. This snowy white emulsion of oil, water and lanolin now comes in a white plastic bottle that's attractively decorated with pink and blue flowers. Johnson's Baby Lotion, convenient to use from its unbreakable container, lubricates the skin, and protects it from chafes and prickles.

When baby has reached three months of age, she will enjoy mild exercise. After her skin care routine, let her lie naked on a clean pad or sheet on the table in a warm room. Free kicking and squirming is good for her. At times, mother can help baby raise her knees to her chest, stretch out her arms, or raise them gently.

Bath-time is baby's special time and the wise mother treats it as more than a dirt-chasing session. Baby can learn about life and people by the way she is treated during her bath hours.

Our Allendale Press Mailbox

Dear Sir:

This is simply a word of thanks from a resident of Allendale for the sincere, and I think, honest, efforts put forth in behalf of this borough by Mayor Les Johnson and Councilman Mayo Harvey. I'm sure it is widely agreed that they are fine men and that they did a good job while in office.

This very fact should be a challenge to the new Mayor and councilmen, who, now that the bitterness of the campaign is over, are faced with the stark realities of acting for the welfare of Allendale, and who, by the thumping size of their majorities in the election, are

SCOUTS HELPED GET OUT VOTE

Looking back on the record turnout of voters in Allendale, we feel that the noise that started the Saturday morning shoppers had quite a bit to do with the larger number of folks who voted here last election.

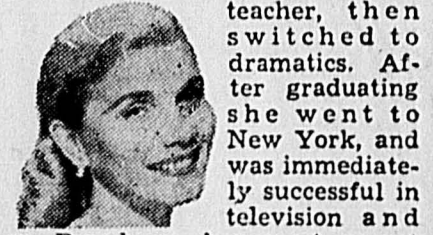

The Boy Scouts of Allendale some with bells and noise makers and others as sandwich men with signs, marched in a group through the business section letting known, in town crier fashion, the importance of the right to vote. It could readily be seen that any kind of a parade, even as small as this one, receives the enthusiasm of boys. The Scouts will receive commemorative pocket pieces for their "Get out the vote" campaign through the co-operation of Freedom Foundation, Inc. with the Boy Scouts of America.

Scoutmaster Bud Buhlman and Asst. Scoutmaster Fred Ellbrecht guided the boys through traffic.

PERSONALIZE back-to-school or "at home" towel ensembles with your name, monogram or initials. It's wonderful economy, done on your sewing machine, and the effect is extremely smart. Cannon Homemaking Institute offers suggestions on how to monogram with rick-rack. Write your name, initials or design on strong tissue and pin it securely to the towel. Stitch through the rick-rack, tissue and towel, following the outline. Finish by hand tacking securely. Tear away all tissue and your monogram or name gives the effect of actual embroidery.

A short name, as in the towel ensemble shown, requires only two yards of baby rick-rack braid. A ten-cent card, found at the dime store, contains five-yards - enough for two bath towels, two face towels, and two wash cloths.

SENIORS OF RAMSEY PRESENTING SHOW

The Senior Class of Ramsey High School is presenting, on the evenings of November 21 and 22 its annual play. Chosen this year is the well known success "Mother is a Freshman", dramatized by Perry Clark from the story by R. D. Blau.

The story is a three act comedy of Mrs. Abigail Abbott a middle aged but very attractive widow. After mother has spent the last of her money from her late husband, she is forced to take advantage of a certain scholarship to keep her daughter Susan in college. Susan is a sophomore and is horrified to have her mother be a freshman. The story which is a result of this situation has both drama and humor to insure a pleasant evening for all theater goers.

The committees which are hard at work include: Programs, Jean Beaulieu, chairman; Publicity, Dee Burke, Chairman; Properties, Cynthia Porter, chairman; Scenery, Dick Ivany and Tony Dioro, Chairman; and lighting and Sound, Tickets, Make up and Ushering. The faculty advisors include Miss Edith Cunningham, Miss Wanda Mallin, Miss Eleanor Salmon, Mr. Henry Van Dyke and Mr. Sessie Wilding.

Once again the play will be under the able direction of Miss Anne Lutz of the English Department.

The air compressor stolen last week from the construction company installing the gas pipes has not been located yet.

There comes a time in every citizen's life, when she looks over the situation and decides the situation isn't worth writing about. At this point in the political field, people are having post mortems on the election—who put who, what and why out of office. In fact, people have asked me to write of this. I could go into these factors with great deliberation and opinions based on scientific past actions of you, the people, in past elections. But why? There's an old Dutch saying, "Let it." This may seem like a crass remark, but upon thinking it over, many will find great peace of mind. Amen.

If you have read this far, forgive me, for I feel exactly like Bugs Bear. Not being of the male sex, you may come to the conclusion that I am merely bungs. This, alone, is a comforting thought, for I know I am not alone. Touchee.

Yes, there are many factors that decide elections and one of these was the "Master Plan". Ah, but what a bright spot it brought to our little town. What copy. What headlines. What excitement rang in the air. We'll all get back to it when the new officers take over and everything looks quiet on the Plaza's front. Just when the Planning board is ready to re alphabetize the town, somebody will come up with a lot of the month club, or sell their property to an airport and they'll reach for a Bromo to head off "Ceiling Zero."

Getting down to details, just why everybody has to have a garage, I shall never know. I could be serious about this, but I much prefer to think there is no ordinance that says they can't put a fireplace in it and use it as a patio.

Then there was the old story of trees coming down in Allendale - A bargain. The town was saved $200. Ah, here too, I could be serious, but what the boys didn't realize was that they dispensed with huge amounts of Chlorophyll. This is in part the chemical action in trees that causes their changes in color, not frost, as some suppose. It is also sunlight that promotes the action of Chlorophyll. During the Spring and Summer, numberless tiny cells in leaves serve as factories, for the manufacture of plant food, the chief agent in the process is Chlorophyll, which all adds up to anti-Chlorophyll regime. Just how silly can we get, when E zone could use Pepsodent for our smile of beauty and the smile of health, plus Chlorophyll. There is a "Master Plan."

Things can be awfully dull without open meetings and elections, but, cheer up. There's always your town budget itching to be tackled. You got out to vote; get out and show the Mayor how you'd like your money spent. Let's not forget the press needs headlines and copy. Yes, and let's not forget the Honorable Mr. Tucker. Take along an aspirin - for him.

CHURCH FAIR TO APPEAL TO ALL FAMILY MEMBERS

The women of Archer Church hope to make the Mother Goose Fair to be held next Friday a family affair. They have provided booths where gifts for all ages will be on display, the children will have their corner where they can do their Christmas shopping and a full scale dinner with baked Virginia ham and home baked apple pie is planned for the evening.

The fair starts at 2:30 in the afternoon and continues on until 8 p.m. Mrs. F. Bogart and Mrs. Mark Olsen are planning the dinner which will be served from 5 til 7:30 to all those who want to have an evening away from the kitchen.

Mrs. Thomas Mowbray is in charge of the children's "corner" which will be a booth featuring presents the children can buy to give as Christmas gifts.

Mrs. C. R. McDonald is in charge of the "white elephant" booth, Mr. Raymond Zane is chairman of the apron booth, Mrs. E. K. Berger will direct the activities of the gift shop and Mrs. William J. Hill will head the food and tea room booths.

Mrs. James E. Webb will have a booth featuring kitchen equipment and potted plants. She announced that a large number of African violets will be on sale.

The Rev. H. W. Goodrich will be on hand to greet visitors at the photograph studio and the members of the Youth Fellowship group will present comic movies for the children.

The next meeting of the local Planning Board will be held on Nov. 24 at the Firehouse at 8:30 p.m.

BLACK MAGIC, in the form of coal-colored buttons, adds a look of costume coquetry to this handsome ensemble of textured fabric. Three large, square-shaped B.G.E. Originals close the new twin-pointed Spencer jacket with dramatic emphasis. Matching buttons in a diminutive size are repeated as decorative motif on the over-sized hatpin that adorns the coordinated draped turban. (ANS)

Next Friday at 2:30 p. m. there will be a Mother Goose Fair at Archer Hall. A large selection of articles will be on sale for children and adults. Harvest Home dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Plan to attend.

The traffic light at Franklin Turnpike and Allendale Avenue was re-installed this week, making the corner considerable safer for traffic than it has been during the weeks the corner has been uncontrolled.

Mrs. Bessie Mowerson, formerly of 138 Myrtle Ave., now at Myers Sanitarium Ridge Road, Park Ridge, N. J. wishes to thank her friends in Allendale who have been kind enough to send her cards and notes.

The long awaited new fire siren platform is taking shape on Allendale Avenue. It is believed the new location will enable residents of the entire borough to be able to hear its blast.

Mrs. Walter Mayfarth has donated a "seascape" (oil painting of the sea) to be sold at the "tiny bazaar" to be held by the Allendale Woman's Club at the War Memorial building December 9.

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, the Women's Society for Christian Service of Archer Church will hold their regular monthly meeting next Wednesday.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The scouts had a busy month in October with camping trip, community service project and West Point football game but November and December promise greater opportunities for fun and scouting.

We had a troop inspection on November 10th in preparation for our new charter from the National Scout Council our troop showed a very good record for 1952 and we will probably receive recognition from headquarters.

On November 17th the troop will have a treasure hunt, the Scoutmaster has an interesting program planned.

November 24 the date of the next Board of Review (the date has been changed from the first Monday of the Month to the last Monday of the month) will also be a program of special interest for the boys.

December 1st the troop will induct new members at a special induction ceremony, there will be movies after.

December 6th has been set for the next day hike with opportunity for scouting experiences,

The Christmas wreaths which the boys have been selling for the troop and themselves will be delivered on December 13th.

Other interesting programs have been prepared for December and in January there will be charter presentation night, also the Winter camp at Camp No Be Bo Sco.

Attendance at scout meetings has been increasing and the committee feels that the scouting program has been greatly improved in the past year.

Examination of the records for the past year show 12 scouts advanced one rank and about 20 merit badges were earned by first class scouts..
