

GLASS BROKEN FROM WINDOW in Brookside School, Allendale, by Abraham Prins is tested for fingerprints. Photo by David M. Knight.

MICHAEL SALVI, center, is taken out of Ramsey police headquarters for a return trip to Allendale. Guarding him is Ramsey Ptl. Fred Smith, at right, and Andrew Picarelli of the Passaic County prosecutor's staff. Photo by John W. Schulz Jr.

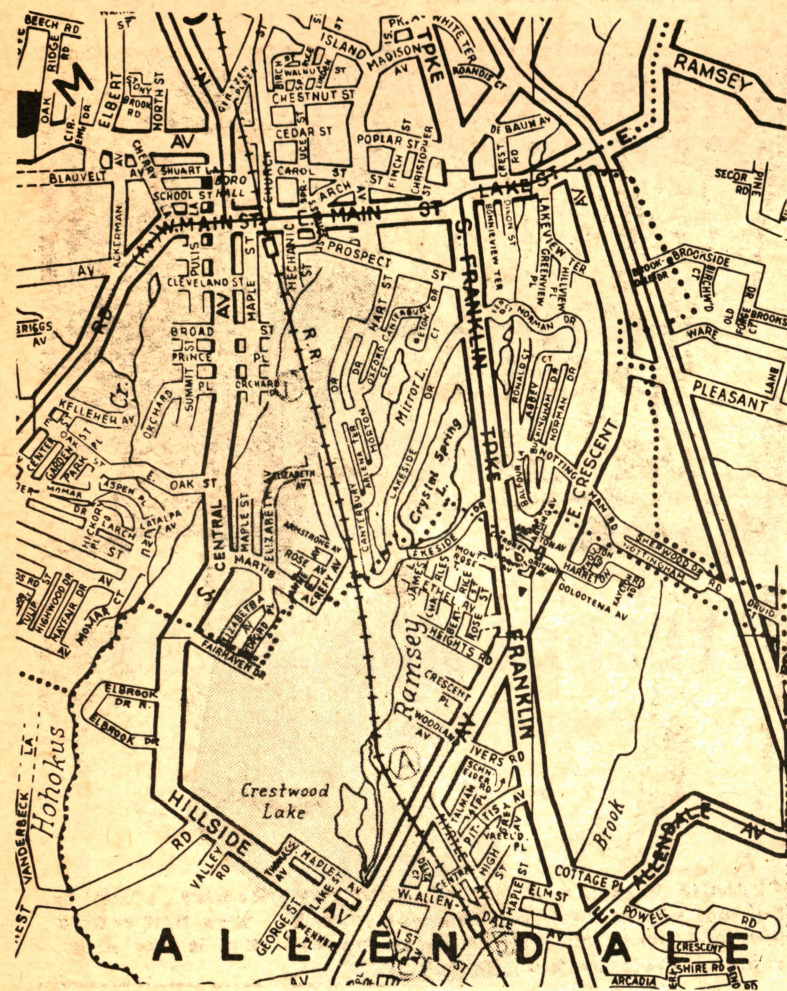

MICHAEL SALVI

ABRAHAM PRINS

POLICE, CAMERAMEN, REPORTERS and curious citizens are all mingled in this picture, showing some of the assemblage in the vicinity of Crestwood Lake shortly after the capture of Michael Salvi. Photo by John W. Schulz Jr.

PRINCIPAL AREA OF SEARCH for the two escaped convicts is shown as the shaded area on this map. A is the site of the Christopher lumber mill, where Salvi and Prins "holed up" on Wednesday afternoon of last week. B shows the location of the Allendale Spa, where Salvi was captured. C marks the back of Brookside School, where Prins broke a window pane to get in and use the school facilities. D marks the approximate spot of Prins' capture, the dotted line showing the course he pursued from Elizabeth Ave. after being spotted by Mr. Shea and pursued by Sgt. Gates.

A STANDOUT IN ANY POLICE GATHERING, Chief Andrew Otens of Upper Saddle River looms above the heads of county police and others during this portion of the manhunt. Photo by Jeff Hackenberg.