

THE JOURNAL.

Vol. 73, No. 7

Second Class Postage
Paid at Ramsey, N. J.

Ramsey, N. J., Thursday, July 2, 1964

Published Weekly at 2 E. Main St.
Ramsey, N. J. Subscription $4. a year.

Price Ten Cents

A BLESSING FOR A MISSION is given by the Rev. Edward Cooke in St. Paul's Church, Ramsey, to Patricia Kromka of Mahwah, one of the Young Christian Workers who left Monday evening for Guatemala to work as volunteers there for the Summer. Awaiting their turns are Rose Marie Di Toro and Carol Ruffer of Rutherford, Cynthia Pritchett of Chicago and partly hidden by Miss Pritchett, Marie Entwistle of Little Falls. Also present, but not in the picture, were Carol Herring of Englewood and Mary Costa of Paterson.
Photo by John W. Schulz Jr.

Ramsey to Celebrate Fourth in Finch Park

RAMSEY-- All borough residents, young and old, have been invited by Mrs. Clara Adkinson, chairman of Saturday's Independence Day celebration, to don historical costumes of any kind for an evening promenade and judging of costumes. The affair will be held in Finch Park if the weather is clear, and in Ramsey High School if rain interferes with the outdoor program.

Mrs. Adkinson added that the entire 300 years of New Jersey history would be allowable as far as costumes went, from Indian times to the present day. Judges will make awards for outstanding costumes in various periods.

The promenade will follow an entertainment program and will be followed in turn by dancing to the music of Al Trapkin's orchestra. Mr. Trapkin, a professional musician well known in the area, is donating his services for the evening.

Mahwah Breaks Ground For New Kilmer School

MAHWAH--A groundbreaking ceremony was held Sunday on the site of the new Joyce Kilmer School on Ridge Rd. near the High School. Architect Emil A. Schmidlin said it was the most beautiful spot ever presented to him on which to design a school building. He added that he hoped it would meet with the approval of the township residents.

Dr. George B. McClellan, superintendent of schools, stated that groundbreaking ceremonies were routine but the planning and work behind them enormous. Mahwah, he said, would not take a back seat to any other municipality in the county and our children and the generations to come would be the beneficiaries. He stated that it was most fitting, in this lovely surrounding, to have named the school after

The evening program will begin at 7 with a performance by the Ramapo Junior Ballet, which has already appeared twice at the New York World's Fair, on Ramsey Day May 30 and New Jersey Day on Wednesday of last week. The program will include numbers by the Ramsey High School folk singers, led by Tom Beach, and the Roadrunners, a rock and roll instrumental combo headed by Van McNeese.

In the morning the usual field contests for those who feel youthful, as well as those who are youthful, will be held in the park under sponsorship of the Recreation Commission. Richard Murray, recreation director, will be in charge. The contests start at 10:30 a.m., continuing until about noon. No program is slated for the afternoon.

Refreshments will be sold during the morning and evening programs, soft drinks by the Little League and Lions Club and edibles by the Community Service Association.

Joyce Kilmer.

Students who named the school were presented, Stephen Jackson, Elizabeth Schade, Susan Spadavecchia and Suzanne McCullough. Sixth graders reciting excerpts from Kilmer's "The 12:45" and "Trees" were Gail Christie, Judith Gogolen, Shelley Rubin, Thomas Borczyk, Patricia Merrill, Eugenia Warhol and Miss Spadavecchia.

Chosen by lot, Garry Rubin, an onlooker, assisted John Lesure, School Board president, in breaking ground with a silver shovel presented by Roger Eeckhout, secretary of the Mahieu Construction Co., general contractor.

Among speakers presented by Dr. McClellan were Mayor Morris E. Ruddick, Mrs. Earl

(Continued on Page 16)

1 Strike Eases, Second Starts

MAHWAH-- While one labor dispute here was eased by agreement of the striking auto carrier drivers to abide by the injunction obtained by the Ford Motor Co. and limit their activities at the Ford assembly plant to informational picketing, another erupted when members of Local 301, Amalgamated Wholesale, Department, Retail and Drug Store Workers, walked out at the Pfister Aluminum plant on Rt. 17 at midnight Tuesday.

The Pfister strike, first in 11 years at the plant, followed the breakdown of negotiations over a demand for a 30 cent hourly wage increase and fringe benefits over the present $3 an hour pay. Arthur De Maio, plant manager, said the terms of a new contract had been under discussion for two months.

The Teamster Local 560 strike against the two automobile carrier firms here is continuing with no interference to the flow of new cars from the overcrowded Ford parking lot to outdoor storage areas elsewhere. Pickets prevented the company from moving cars outside the plant area earlier, claiming this could lead to their delivery to showrooms from the other locations. The company's application for an injunction followed.

What's Inside

For a cameraman's view of the Allendale Tercentenary parade, see page 10.

More graduates appear on page 5.

Vhurch6, 7

Classified12, 13

Date Book14

Editorial8

Forum8, 9

Social3

Sports14

Parade Marks Tercentenary

ALLENDALE-- A Tercentenary celebration involving 10,000 hot dogs, 300 marching firemen, Boy and Girl Scouts, businessmen, beer, bands, soda pop and pretty girls, got started with a parade here Saturday.

According to town officials, the parade was the largest one held in Allendale in many a moon, although the imagery might seem somewhat imprecise, as only the sky's dayside help, the sun, was around to witness the goings-on.

This golden stove, when not inducing perspiration was otherwise playing hide-and-seek with thunderheads, which seemed to disperse like braggarts when confronted with the bands and exuberance down below. The exuberance was really splashy when the elegant men of the Hillsdale Fire Department tossed their likewise elegant chief into the pool, after winning the trophy for being the unit with the best regulation uniforms.

Second place in this category went to Ramsey, while Ho-Hokus was third.

In other categories, Secaucus won the trophy for the best dress uniforms, while Wyckoff and Mahwah finished second and third. The Mahwah auxiliary did better, finishing first for the best appearing women's group, followed by Hillsdale and Wyckoff.

In all, 17 fire departments participated in the parade, which started at 2 p.m. and ended slightly more than two miles and an hour later.

Winning the prize for the parade's best floats were Boy Scout Troop 59, the Chamber of Commerce and Calvary Lutheran Church.

The scouts had two floats, both of which were impressive. One contained two canoes, one of them holding scouts and the other Indians. The second float had six scouts dressed in colonial attire, standing around a campfire.

After the parade, the band competition was held. Winning first place was the Secaucus Fire Department. Second and third places were won by the Glenaine Pipe Band and the Privateers of the Brooklyn Community Center. A total of 13 bands took part.

During the celebration, Mayor Robert I. Newman made a speech in which he thanked all those who had helped make the affair possible.

The mayor gave awards to those who won in the competition to design the Allendale flag, the borough seal and the anniversary seal. The winner in

(Continued on Page 16)

Allendale Again Has Total Ban

ALLENDALE--Tuesday's heat resulted in such a drain on the borough water system that the total ban on use of water for lawns was imposed again Tuesday night. The ban had been relaxed after the last rain to let residents water their lawns and flower beds two days a week, alternate days being set for residents east and west of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad tracks.

Meanwhile, the council and Board of Public Works is expected to hold a joint meeting to discuss plans to meet the perennial shortage. Several plans are being considered, including attempts to get more water out of existing wells, the building of a caisson type well in sand, which would involve both filtration and chlorination of the water obtained therefrom, and inquiries of both the Hackensack Water Co. and the Village of Ridgewood as to their terms for providing additional water for the borough.

Donna Reid Leaves in Haste For AFS Summer in Sweden

BY PAMELA TILLSON

RAMSEY--On Monday of last week at 6 a.m., Donna Reid found out that she had been chosen as Ramsey's first American Field Service representative abroad. She had only until Saturday to get her shots and her passport to Sweden, where she will stay with the Johanson family for the Summer.

Ramsey's chapter of the AFS sent the names of Donna, Marcia Hovey and Anne Nicholson to New York City, where Donna was chosen as the candidate best suited to the Johansons.

She left New York on the AFS ship, the Seven Seas, bound for Rotterdam, where European AFS representatives will meet those from the United States and take them to their destinations. Although English is spoken in Sweden and all the Johansons speak it to some degree, Donna will study the Swedish language as well as Swedish customs during her 10 days at sea.

The Johansons have a daughter 21, who has a job away from home working as a camp counselor and another daughter 17, who will keep Donna company. They plan to spend the Summer swimming and traveling, and if school is in session during any of Donna's visit she will attend.

She will return to the United States on Sept. 10.

DONNA REID