Two local juveniles were taken into custody and placed under arrest after they were caught vandalizing property of four homeowners on Knolton Road. The pair, armed with kitchen knives, punctured tires and damaged a boat trailer.

Filling balloons with water and throwing them at passing cars may have seemed like a harmless prank to five juveniles, but when one of the balloons landed on the windshield of a Waldwick resident's car, temporarily impairing his ability to see the road, it was no longer amusing.

Immediately after the incident, the group fled; however, one fleeing youngster who crashed into a barbed wire fence was taken by police to headquarters where he was given first aid and then placed under arrest. An investigation is still continuing and Juvenile Officer Ron Cook said more complaints would be signed.

A student at NHRHS reported to police that while his car was in a student lot, all his headlights were smashed, a hood ornament was removed and the body was scratched.

The AVFD was called to wash down the roadway when a 5-gallon container of gasoline fell off a truck on Hillside Avenue.

Chain saws and a pair of climbing spurs were removed from a truck parked on Cottage Place last week. The items were recovered by Paramus Police who returned them to their owner. Ptl. Mike Shanley indicated that further action on the case would be handled by the Paramus Police Department.

Three cars were involved in a minor accident May 9 in the A&P parking lot when none of the drivers was present. The driver of the first vehicle, Letha Arrants of Ramsey, told police that she left her vehicle with the engine running, and while she was gone the car slipped out of neutral or park and rolled backwards hitting the other cars.
