SOCIETY NEWS

We sadly report the recent deaths of some of our long-time supporters: Laura Barrett Haviland died at age 95 in August 1995; A. Marian Strangfeld (a former Society president, and a board member at the time of her death) died in December 1995; Fred Gordon (of Seminole, FL) died in January 1996.

We continue to receive kind letters about our 1994 book, Allendale: Background of a Borough. One letter, from David Berdan in Concord, New Hampshire, is printed in this newsletter.

Our thanks to Anna Cooper Christopher, who loaned some of the photographs reproduced in this issue. We're sure you'll enjoy them, and they are sure to bring back a memory or two.

We continue to run the society on an inactive basis, but unless volunteers for offices come forward within the next few months, we will have to acknowledge that there is not enough local support and interest, and we will disband the society in May. Local members: If you have ever considered becoming a society officer, now is the time to volunteer. Call Pat Wardell, 327-0605. ■

LETTER FROM DAVID BERDAN

Pat Wardell,
Allendale Historical Society

Dear Pat:

Just a note to congratulate you on the book, "Allendale: Background of a Borough." I have spent many pleasurable hours perusing its detailed contents. What happy memories it has evoked! Incidentally, I speak for Doris as well, and I know that my cousin, Betty Hamilton Wheatley (of Ho-Ho-Kus) and Doris' brother, Arthur Albert (of Fairfax, VA) have also enjoyed it! Obviously you have spent several years assembling the material, and especially the photos. You are to be commended on a great job. We will treasure that book and go back to it often.

I'm sorry to hear that the Society is probably going out of existence. It's too bad that there is not enough interest to continue it. We have looked forward to every issue of the newsletter, because each one has had some items that brought back fond memories of earlier days. For instance, this latest issue had the story about Tiny Anthony, who was my third grade teacher in 1927-1928. She was a great teacher! Also in that issue was a list of graduates of Allendale Public School in 1910, and while those folks were of an earlier generation, I knew most all of them while growing up in Allendale, because almost all of them were my father's friends, even though they were all a bit younger than my father. Surely those growing up years in Allendale were the "good old days."

SOME EARLY TEACHERS IN ALLENDALE'S PUBLIC GRAMMAR SCHOOL

In the summer of 1974, Ella Appert (herself an early Allendale school teacher, and a member of a prominent Allendale turn-of-the-century family) made a list of the teachers she remembered in the Allendale Public School during the early years of the borough. ## ALLENDALE HOUSES BUILT BEFORE 1940

Compiled by Pat Wardell

Compiler's Note: This "inventory" of pre-1940 Allendale houses has been compiled using information in the Society's files and in my own files. Very few of the houses have been systematically researched, so we know that for most of them, the information is incomplete. We would welcome any additions, corrections, updating, etc. from our readers, and will happily add such information to the Society's files.

Only houses still in existence today are included in this inventory. Houses are generally named for the earliest known owner/occupant. Names associated with a house are not necessarily always owners; some may have been tenants. Also, not all owners actually lived in houses they owned; some houses were leased for rental income. The houses are listed alphabetically by street names, then numerically by house number.

Some residents and owners of this house and their part in its building history

John H. Thompson bought the house and estate from John Fell in 1793 for £2000. Nothing is currently known about John H. Thompson, except that a possible son, "John Thompson, Junr. (of City of New York)" was married by Chas. Board, Bergen County Justice of the Peace, on January 2, 1810, to "Mary Percey (of New Prospect)." New Prospect was the name for the vicinity that is now Waldwick; in 1810 it could very well have encompassed this section of what is now Allendale.

Several owners, of whom we know little or nothing owned the house and/or parts of the property for the following 30-40 years.

A William Curtis acquired the property before January 1811, when a petition for the vacation of "The Shunpike" describes the road to be vacated as running over the lands of various landowners, including "Mr. Curtis." (Bergen County Road Return D, 239.) Nothing more is known of Curtis.

Abner Armstrong ("of the Township of Saddle River") bought from William Curtis, in 1823, for $700, about 90.5 acres. His wife's name was Nancy. Nothing more is known about him.

In July 1828, Abner Armstrong and his wife, Nancy, sold for $5,500. the same 90.5 acres to William Carr of the City of New York. In 1830, William Carr and his wife, Maria, sold the same 90.5 acres to John G. Ackerman.

John G. Ackerman, the son of Garret Ackerman and Charity Hopper, was born April 10, 1794 at Saddle River, and died Dec. 5, 1885 (buried Paramus). He married Maria Vanderbeek, who was born July 23, 1805 and died Feb. 16, 1879 (buried Paramus). They had children:

1. Charity Ann Ackerman, born Dec. 8, 1824, bapt. Jan. 30, 1825 Saddle River, died 1891 (m. July 17, 1848 Peter H. Terhune)

2. Henrietta Ackerman, born Sept. 23, 1826, bapt. Oct. 29, 1826 Saddle River (married Nov. 12, 1845 at New Prospect, Stephen Goetschius)

3. Mary Felter Ackerman, born Sept. 17, 1827, bapt. Oct. 12, 1827 Paramus, d. 1907 (m. 1851 James Goodrich Cande of Syracuse, N.Y.)

4. Jane (Jennie) Ackerman, born June 16, 1830, bapt. July 25, 1830 Paramus, d. June 3, 1910 (never married)

5. Martha Ackerman, born April 3, 1832, bapt. May 6, 1832 Paramus, d. 1911 (married (1) 1860 Benjamin Davids of Rochester, N.Y.; married (2) John Bentley)

6. Andrew Hopper ("Hop") Ackerman, born Aug. 11, 1835, bapt. Sept. 7, 1835 Paramus, died 1897 at Ramsey (married 1858 Jemima Ramsey)

7. Cornelius Henry Ackerman, born Sept. 7, 1839, bapt. Oct. 19, 1839 Paramus, d. 1910 at Binghamton, N.Y. (married 1870 Eliza Jane McKinstry)

8. John Abraham Ackerman, born Aug. 14, 1841, d. 1842.

9. John Ackerman, born May 7, 1844, died 1849.

John G. Ackerman was a merchant and a farmer. He served on the first Board of Trustees for the Allendale School. Joseph Warner Allen, for whom "Allendale" station was named, stayed in this house with the Ackerman family about 1846-1848 when he was surveying the route of the Paterson and Ramapo Railroad (trains began running in 1848). The Ackerman Genealogy and the History of Archer Memorial Church state that John G. Ackerman (or his daughter Miss Jane Ackerman) organized a Union Sunday School about 1865 ("Ackerman Union Sunday School"). The school met in an old store building which stood on Franklin Turnpike just about opposite the Ackerman house. In 1866, when preparations to straighten the turnpike threatened the building, it was sold to a Mr. Lyon who later had it moved to his property in Waldwick. The building was said to have been moved on four wooden sleds called "stone boats" (runnerless sledges normally used to move large boulders) drawn by four teams of horses, taking 3 days and 2 nights to move the building a mile and a half south. The building eventually burned about 1878.

According to the 1850 Federal Census for Hohokus Township, "Debios Hasbrouck, age 25, Doctor" was listed as living with the Ackerman family at that time. A few years later, by 1853, he was living in an old stone house on the southeast corner of the intersection of Franklin Turnpike and Cottage Place (his house, labelled "Dubois Hasbrouck's house" is shown on Bergen County Road Return F144). In 1849-50 he was Superintendent of Schools in Hohokus Township and he was one of the organizers of the Bergen County Medical Society (1854). Dubois Hotaling Hasbrouck, the son of Abraham Hasbrouck and Catherine Goetschius, was born Sept. 16, 1825 (in Ulster County, N.Y.?) and died March 30, 1865 in Paramus, N.J. Hewas the grandson of the Rev. Stephen Goetschius. He married, June 10, 1851 at High Falls, N.Y., Mary Hasbrouck. They had children: Kate D. Hasbrouck, Matthew DeWitt Hasbrouck, Calvin Hasbrouck, and Eva Hasbrouck.

On May 7, 1846 John G. Ackerman and Maria, his wife, conveyed to Garret G. Felter a portion of their property in two lots of 19.86 acres and 27.29 acres. Felter later sold both lots to Dubois Hasbrouck. Garret G. Felter, son of Guilbert Felter and Maria Ackerman (sister of John G. Ackerman), was born 1811 and died 1868 (buried Haverstraw, N.Y.). In 1850 he and his wife and their two daughters were living on this property in Allendale. (1850 Federal Census for Hohokus Township)

On January 6, 1866 John G. Ackerman and Maria, his wife, conveyed the house and 14 acres to Emma Cable, wife of Stephen Cable.

Stephen Cable was born about 1815 and died September 1887. He was Ferry Master of the Pavonia Ferry for the Erie Railroad. He married Emma Berdell [Bedell?], daughter of Robert S. Berdell ("a former president of the Erie Railroad"). She was born in January 1814 and lived to be more than 100 years old. They had at least two children: Robert B. Cable, born about 1841, later a Superintendent of the Erie Railroad (married Catherine -?-); and Mary Emma Cable, born about 1850, died 1903 (married James A. Reading). In 1872, during Epiphany season, Mrs. James A. Reading first conducted a Sunday School in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cable. In 1873 the school was moved to an old barn opposite the Cable House. (Bergen Index, August 28, 1878) This Sunday School became the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany.

After the death of Stephen Cable in 1887, Emma B. Cable rented the house to various tenants. By January 1890, she herself was living in Harlem and visiting Allendale periodically to look after her property. Among those who rented the house or stayed there for various lengths of time after 1887, when Stephen Cable died were: Mrs. Kate Harris (1889-1890) who ran it as a summer boarding house called "The Albermarle Hotel"; Mrs. E. Rosencrans, of Hohokus (Jan. 1890); and Adam Badeau (1892).

On March 30, 1912, Robert B. Cable and Catherine Cable of Ridgewood conveyed the house and 8.465 acres to Joseph B. Taylor.

Joseph B. Taylor was born in Brooklyn about 1868, the son of Edwin Stoddart Taylor and Annie Victoria Greenwood, and grandson of William Taylor who founded the Columbian Iron Works in Brooklyn, suppliers of iron for, among other projects, the Brooklyn Bridge. Joseph B. Taylor graduated from Columbia University in 1888 with a degree in civil engineering. He later specialized in utilities. After graduation, he was commissioned a Lieutenant (J.G.) in the Naval Reserve. He was employed first by the Westinghouse, Church & Kerr Co. of New York City, and later worked for W. F. Barstow & Co. of New York. He was on the Board of Directors of the General Gas & Electric Co. He was a member of the University Club of New York City, the Columbia University Club and a member of the Union League.

Joseph B. Taylor married Charlotte Bossart Pitcher and they had children: William R. Taylor, Arnold P. Taylor, Ethel Stoddart Taylor, Ruth Taylor (married Whiting Anthony) and Margaret ("Peggy") Taylor (married Robert Kohler). Mrs. Taylor died in 1939 and Mr. Taylor died on June 29, 1942.

On March 29, 1912, The Ramsey Journal reported: "Mr. Stephen Van Houten Jr., Contractor and Builder, will remodel the barn on the Cable property recently purchased by Mr. J. B. Taylor." The same newspaper on December 9, 1915 reported: "J. B. Taylor is building a cottage for his gardener. Joseph B. Taylor has been making great changes in his residence on Franklin Turnpike. A large addition, giving much more room to the house, has followed the Colonial lines of the balance of the edifice, and when completed will be a beautiful home. During the reconstruction of the house Mr. Taylor's family have been living in Ridgewood. He is also erecting a tenant's house on the rear of the property." James E. Webb, Allendale builder, worked on this reconstruction.

On October 24, 1951 William R. Taylor and the United States Trust Company of New York, Executors under the Last Will & Testament of Joseph B. Taylor, conveyed the house and property (8.465 acres) to Frederick W. Pfister and Rose M. Pfister, his wife.
