Congratulations T59, and we are looking forward to the next 100 years.

As we celebrate the 100th anniversary of Troop 59, I can't help but look back fondly at my time as Scoutmaster. It was a pleasure to serve the community of Allendale and mentor scouts through the various ranks and eventually to Eagle. It is wonderful to see how our scouts have grown into the men they are today.

I am thankful for the countless relationships that I have forged while volunteering for one of Allendale's most impactful organizations. From paper drives to flag ceremonies, I am proud of the positive influence Troop 59 has had on Allendale.

Best wishes for the future of Troop 59,

Boy Scouting Comes to America

On a foggy day in 1909, a British Boy Scout guided an American businessman, William D. Boyce, to his destination and refused a tip for his Good Turn. While in London Boyce asked the boy to take him to the British Scout office where he met Baden-Powell, the famous British general who founded the Scouting movement 1907. Boyce was so impressed with both the boy's spirit and what he learned about scouting that he decided to bring Scouting home to the USA.

On February 8, 1910 in Washington DC, Boyce and a group of outstanding men founded the Boy Scouts of America. One Good Turn to one man became a Good Turn to millions of American boys. Such is the power of a Good Turn.

Boy Scouting in Allendale, NJ

In 1917, the year that Woodrow Wilson brought America into World War I Rev. Charles Woodruff of Archer Memorial Church, formed Allendale's first Boy Scout troop, known as Troop One led by Allendale's 1st Scoutmaster Robert Phair.

One of the Troops first service projects, during World War I, was the collection of papers for the benefit of the North Jersey Ambulance Fund. During the war, the scouts also sold war bonds and collected old newspapers.

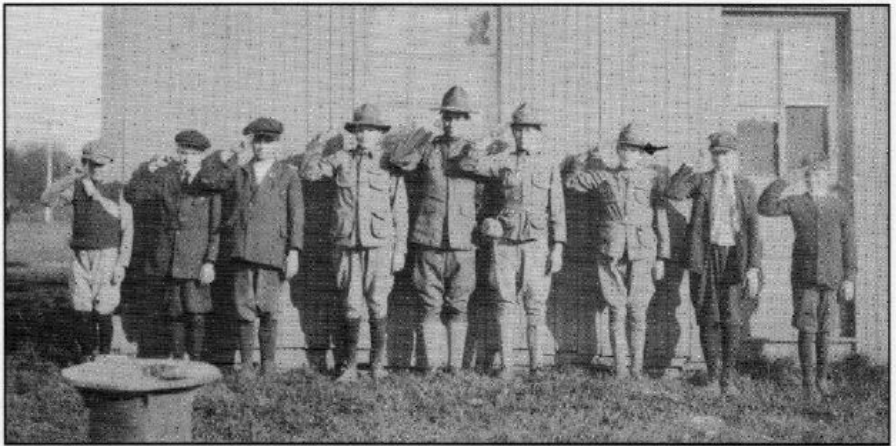

In February 1917, nineteen Allendale boy scouts went on an all-day hike to Torne Mountain near Suffern. The Ramsey Journal of March 1, 1917.

In 1918 Allendale's Home Town Letter Committee was organized. This committee arranged for the printing and personalization of a booklet and at least one "letter from home" to be sent to Allendale's boys who were away serving their country. The Allendale Boy Scouts raised funds for this letter committee by conducting a tag day.

Prior to 1920, all Boy Scout troops were administered from the National Headquarters. As the Boy Scout movement grew it became clear that lower levels of administration were needed, so the country was divided up into Regions and Councils, which eventually became Councils and Districts. In 1920, Troop 1 entered the North Bergen County Council, where it was re-assigned the number 59.

In 1928 Crestwood Lake is open to the public for swimming.

During the Great Depression, Troop 59's meetings were held in the old Allendale firehouse. It was at this time that the first troop high adventure trips began with an overnight hike to the Ramapo River.

In 1937, a great moment in the history of Allendale scouting occurred when Daniel Beard, visited a Parents' Night in Allendale. Daniel Carter Beard and Earnest Thompson Seton were well known authors and contributed to the creation of the American scout movement. Daniel Beard was an outdoorsman and sketch artist and in 1905 established the Sons of Daniel Boone based on the values and skills of the American frontier.

Sketches by Daniel Beard

In the late 1920s, Scouts of Allendale attended Camp Anthony Wayne in Pike County, Pennsylvania.

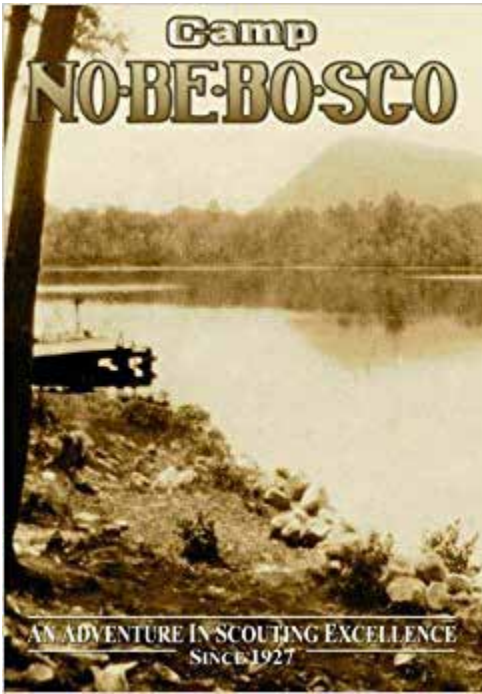

In 1908 George M. Potter bought 16 acres to build his home at 75 West Crescent Avenue. Mrs. Potter was an inventor and her father, William Walker Marston, was the inventor of the repeating rifle. The family new Buffalo Bill (William F. Cody) because of Mrs. Potter's father's invention. Buffalo Bill visited the family and their son Marston's log cabin in the woods behind their home. The cabin was fondly remembered by Allendale's early boy scouts as an exciting meeting and camping place and named "Cody Log Cabin". Photos and other Buffalo Bill souvenirs were kept at the cabin as well as his highly revered autograph as an ornament in the cabin.

The Cody Log Cabin being repaired by Troop 59 in the 1950's. A fire destroyed the cabin but the chimney still stands today.

Around 1937, Troop 59 attended summer camp at No-Be-Bo-SCO, the official camp of the North Bergen boy scouts near Blairstown, NJ.

Frederick Savage, by 1938 was called “the daddy of scouting” in Allendale. He organized and was the leader of the Pioneers of the Open Road, which included boys too young to be eligible to join the Boy Scouts. He was familiarly known to the boys down through the years as “Uncle Fred.”

In 1939, Norman Farrell became the first Troop 59 scout to reach the rank of Eagle Scout.

One of Allendale's youngest scoutmasters was Arthur B. Albert (1936-1941) who became scoutmaster at the age of 20. Below is the front and back of his boy scout membership card from 1935 showing his age as 19.

In 1937 Allendale Troop 59 attended the first National Scout Jamboree held in Washington DC with 27,000 scouts from around the country.

In 1940, Troop 59 spent a week camping at the New York World's Fair.

In the early 1940s Troop 59's meetings were switched to the American Legion Hall, Allendale's old school building, site of the present police station on Franklin Turnpike.

In November 1941, the troop held its first paper drive. During World War II, the troop collected paper, metal, and rubber to support the American war effort. For this, Troop 59 scouts earned the General Eisenhower Medal for Outstanding Service to their Country.

General Eisenhower Medal for Outstanding Service to their Country.

Between 1941 and 1946 an astounding eleven scouts reached the rank of Eagle under the leadership of scoutmaster William B. Buhlman. Not only did Mr “B” serve several terms as scoutmaster and continue as assistant scoutmaster until his death in 1979 but he was also one of the original charter members of Allendale’s Troop One, in 1917.

Immediately following World War II, the Troop's highlight trip was the North Bergen Council Camporee in Mahwah. At the time, the Troop dedicated the plaque in Archer Hall to the scouts lost in World War II.

In April 1952, the Archer Hall became the permanent site of the troop meetings. At this time, many of the Troop's campouts took place at the campfire site on the Ho-Ho-Kus Brook in Allendale. There were also trips to Slide Mountain in the Catskills and a hike along the Hudson in which groups on either side of the mountain signaled Morse Code to each other.

Troop 59 grew with the town of Allendale in the mid 1950s and a limit of fifty scouts was imposed which led to the formation of Troop 252. With the reinstatement of The Explorer Post within Troop 59 the first trip to Philmont in New Mexico was organized. In the late 1950s, father and son dinners, overnights to Camps No-Be-Bo-Sco and Yaw Paw, and day hikes to Bear Mountain Park continued to be highlight events.

In 1959, Robert Turner became Scoutmaster. Under his leadership, more scouts achieved the rank of Eagle, monthly themes were instituted, and training overnights for the Green Bar of patrol leaders and assistants took place. The Troop began Scout of the Year and Patrol of the Year contests. Highlight trips during this time began incorporating historical locations, the first being camping at Valley Forge in Pennsylvania. In 1962, the trips included hiking the historical trails of Morristown and Washington's Crossing.

In 1963 Troop 59 took a three-day trip to historic Gettysburg and the troop hosted a camporee for the entire Ramapo district centered on scouting skills. That year, Troop 59 led the council with 59 rank advancements. Trips in 1964 further pursued the military theme of Gettysburg, with visits to Fort Dix, NJ, and the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland. Some scouts that year attended the National Jamboree at Valley Forge. 1964 was New Jersey's Tercentenary, and Troop 59 celebrated by placing first in Allendale's float parade. In November, the troop spent four days touring Washington, DC over teacher's convention weekend.

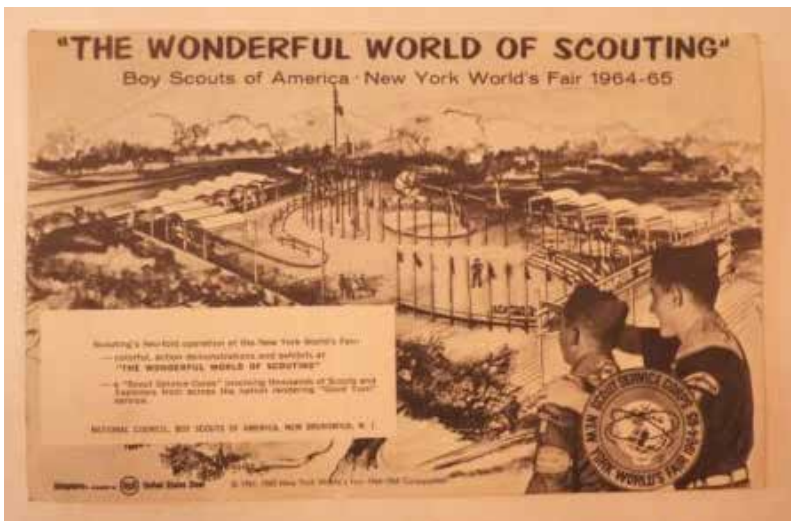

The Allendale Boy Scout Troop 59 took their first trip to the Ten Mile River Scout Camps in 1965, having fun staying at “the Blockhouse” cabin. Later that year the Troop went river rafting in the “Grand Canyon” of Pennsylvania. The trip turned out to be ‘memorable’ for all the wrong reasons and Troop 59 waited twenty-five years before trying river rafting again.

In 1965, summer camp for Troop 59 was a two week stay at Camp No-Be-Bo-Sco. Troop 59 was the largest in the camp, and the Scouts earned an astonishing 130 merit badges.

In 1965 the World's Fair was in New York, the Troop took a day trip to see Allendale Scoutmaster Robert Turner, who was leading the BSA Service Corps in camping there. Troop 59 closed out 1965 with highlight hikes at High Point State Park and a bicycle trek to Campgaw.

1966 began with Troop 59 having a swim party at the Paterson YMCA in January. During Scout Week in February, the scouts displayed their skills with a “Scouts in Action” display in the center of town. That same month, Mr. Turner stepped down as Scoutmaster, he was a remarkable leader of Troop 59, doubling enrollment by making scouting an ‘in thing’ for Allendale boys to do.

For the period of 1966-1999 (a total of 33 years!) John Cebak, “Knock”, led Troop 59 as Scoutmaster during which time Troop 59 had over 65 scouts achieve the rank of Eagle. During most of this period, Floodwood was utilized for the two-week summer camp excursion. One week would be a high adventure canoe trip (30 miles for the younger scouts and 50 miles for the older scouts). During the second week the Troop would be in base camp working on merit badges, scout skills and advancement. Troop 59 was and is consistently the largest Troop in camp and won the annual “water festival” year after year.

Early 1960's

From the 1960's to the 1990's Troop 59 had numerous treks to Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. The scouting year included local backpacking and camping trips within the Ramapo and Harriman Mountain Region. Emergency preparedness, first aid drills, community service and paper drives also took place within the town.

In addition, the Troop would frequently head off on special trips to Washington, Gettysburg, Boston and Valley Forge. During the late 1970s and early 1980s the scouts enjoyed their annual ski trip to Gore Mountain.

Delaware & Leigh River Trip

Troop 59 alternated between canoeing on the Delaware and Rafting on the Leigh River. the older Scouts took to the water, the newbies did a Rail-Trail Bike Ride or remained in camp to work on Scout Skills. Initially the entire Troop did the bike ride one day and rafting the next.

SeaBase/Bahamas

Upon joining the Troop as an Assistant Scoutmaster, Mr. Dworkin took on the task of kick-starting the High Adventure Program, and getting the Troop back to Philmont. Research determined it was a two-year process to reserve Philmont Treks, but there was no waiting list for SeaBase in Florida.....so....Troop 59 ventured to Islamorada for the Out Island Adventure.

Philmont
