ALLLENDALE
Scouts earn Eagle ranking after completing service project

The Allendale 2014 Eagle Scout ceremony was recently held for seven scouts who completed their Eagle Scout Project. Many of the scouts received assistance from volunteers, businesses, scout leaders and other adults, most of them family members, who donated time, funds and support. The scouts thanked those who helped them with their projects.

■ Hyte Alward completed a project on behalf of Chapel Hill High School in partnership with the school's design and contracting team. He designed and constructed two benches and three tree wells, which took 200 man hours to complete. Scouts, Jim Finken, Kaitlin Brothers and John Anselmi helped with the project.

■ Eric Swanson completed a stone patio and wooden benches at the National Veterans Land mark Heritage working closely with the master gardener, Neena Bruner. Scouts, friends and family members assisted with the project.

■ Termy Hart installed a ramp at the Fern School in Walhalla, a school for children with special needs, to which fallen trees

■ Jonathan Lasket helped design and build shelving units and provided guidance for the Scout & Girl Club of Southside Rebuilding. His fellow scouts, friends and Mark Morris assisted with the project.

■ John Kelly researched and developed a design to build two benches for the senior garden at the Children's Therapy Center in Atlantic Park, with excess funds donated to the center toward the purchase of a fountain for the garden. Fellow scouts, Gabe Swartz from Troop 90 and Boulder's Nursery helped with the project.

■ Brendan Boudt helped build an handicapped accessible roller-patio table and 12 benches for Camp Acura, a camp for special needs children. Fellow scouts, friends, Kevin Alward and the Kaitlin Brothers contributed to the project.

■ Nicholas Nick Summa built eight new benches for the Fern School's new classroom shelter in Patuxent. Volunteers assisted him with his project.

Mother Hen/Newbies - Scoutmaster Unger selected Ted Hannes as the first Troop Guide for the incoming new Scouts. Ted worked with the new Scouts from the time they joined the Troop in February, through their time at summer camp, introducing them to the Troop, guiding them and teaching Scout Skills. One afternoon at Summer Camp, Mr. Unger noted how the Newbies followed along behind Ted like chicks, following a Mother Hen, from that point the official Troop Position of Mother Hen was established.

Delaware & Leigh River Trip

Troop 59 alternated between canoeing on the Delaware and Rafting on the Leigh River. While the older Scouts took to the water, the newbies did a Rail-Trail Bike Ride or remained in camp to work on Scout Skills. Initially the entire Troop did the bike ride one day and rafting the next.

SeaBase/Bahamas

Upon joining the Troop as an Assistant Scoutmaster, Mr. Dworkin took on the task of kick-starting the High Adventure Program, and getting the Troop back to Philmont. A little research determined it was a two-year process to reserve Philmont Treks, but there was no waiting list for SeaBase in Florida....so....Troop 59 ventured to Islamorada for the Out Island Adventure.

The activities were great (boating, fishing, snorkeling, and lobstering) but the food and sleeping conditions were miserable! Mr. Dworkins further research lead to finding "The Captain and the Admrial" and the Ciganka in Marsh Harbour, Bahamas, which has become a Troop 59 tradition. Alternating years with Philmont, the Troop has sailed on Ciganka five times in the past 10-years.

National Jamborees bring Scouts together from all over the country every 4 years, to celebrate scouting's history and achievements. Troop 59 has been represented at the past three Jamborees (2005, 2010 and 2013), and will have members attending the upcoming 2017 National Jamboree at the Summit in West Virginia. In the interval between National Jamborees, WOSM (World Organization of the Scouting Movement) hosts the World Jamboree. Troop 59 has had members attend the 2011 World Jamboree in Sweden and the 2015 World Jamboree in Japan.
